Barry Bids For Votes In California

Says Johnson Plays 'Dangerous Game' With Soviet Union

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater came back today to the state where he nailed down the Republican nomination to accuse President Johnson of playing a "dangerous game" of coexistence with the Soviet Union.

The GOP presidential candidate sought to stir his California precinct followers into the kind of action that gave him a victory in the June 2 presidential primary. He lashed out at the Democratic President as a man who was afraid to take the risk of standing up to the Communists.

In defense of freedom — and if ever the boundaries of the free world are to be enlarged — there will always be risk," he said.

"But I submit that the greater risk, in the face of Communist aggression, is to do nothing — still worse, to submit — and worst of all, to seek new and illusory accommodations with ar antagonist that has never retreated an inch from a resolute purpose that contemplates the destruction of our world.

"On all three scores the present administration is playing a dangerous game — filled with risks for American security, and for the hopes of free men everywhere for a just peace."

Goldwater's attack on Johnson's international policies was made in a speech prepared for the World Affairs Council.

Goldwater is pinning most of his hopes of winning vital California, with its 40 electoral votes, on a "get out the vote" drive by his supporters in sprawling Los Angeles County.

Denison Kitchel, his campaign director, credited Goldwater's victory over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the June primary largely to the efforts of hard-core supporters in rolling up an impressive Los Angeles County vote.

"That's the way we won the primary and that's the way we're going to carry California next month," Kitchel said.

Goldwater himself obviously believes that he is changing the minds of some voters by his campaigning. Neither he nor Kitchel accepts at face value the polls which show Johnson in the lead in almost every section of the country.

It is their belief that a great many people who are going to vote for the Republican nominee just aren't saying so at this point. They contend private polls show the number of voters who class themselves as undecided is increasing, rather than decreasing, as the election nears.

Part of the Republican strategy is to play up the fortune that Johnson has accumulated during his political career. A national accounting firm hired by Johnson reported this at $3.5 million, but Republicans insist this is far too low, noting that some estimates run as high as $14 million.

The second step is to suggest that Johnson is covering up scandal within the administration. Goldwater mentions the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases at almost every opportunity.

Teacher In Crestview School Hurt In Crash

LISBON — Mrs. Lillian Poe Powell, 49, of Poland, an English teacher at Crestview High School, and a New Springfield couple were hurt in a two-car mishap at 8:07 a.m. today at Five Points about two miles northeast of North Lima.

Youngstown South Side Hospital reported the victims at noon were being X-Rayed to determine the extent of injury. Mrs. Powell suffered facial lacerations.

Others hurt were Cecil Cusick, 43, of New Springfield R. D. 1, and his 33-year-old wife, Shirley.

U.S. Colonel Kidnaped By Reds In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A U.S. Air Force colonel apparently was kidnaped today by pro-Communist terrorists, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said.

He was identified as Lt. Col. Michael Smolen, deputy chief of the U.S. mission to the Venezuelan air force.

Makes Strong Pitch For Young

140,000 Greet Johnson During Cleveland Visit

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Johnson flew out of Cleveland an hour behind schedule Thursday night after demonstrating tight security measures won't keep him from saying "Hello to the folks."

Crowds estimated by police at up to 140,000 greeted the President on his six-hour visit—his second to Cleveland in four months — and he acted like a man who would like to have shaken hands with every individual.

He did touch hands and exchange a word with hundreds along a motorcade route from Burke Lakefront Airport to the Sheraton - Cleveland Hotel on Public Square.

Police poking billy clubs had to rescue him when he was pinned against the right front fender of his limousine by a surging crowd he mingled with at the Euclid-East Ninth intersection.

And it was here that he was hugged so tightly by a woman from the crowd that he had to tell her: "Lady, please let me go."

He climbed on the trunk of the limousine and made a brief speech to a pressing throng at the hotel entrance, thanking them for a Democratic victory in Ohio Nov. 3.

It was a young crowd that surrounded his car at the hotel —many of them teen-agers, and it took all the brawn of a score of policemen and Secret Service agents to clear a 10-yard path to the hotel door.

Three policemen were treated for minor injuries received trying to fend off the crowds.

Time and again along the route of the motorcade the president remonstrated with his protectors for pushing people away.

"Let the folks get up here," he called to them repeatedly as he stood on a step outside the open rear door of the limousine and stretched toward the outreached hands.

U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young introduced the President at the $100-a-plate dinner attended by about 2,700 in the $17.5 million convention center that opened last August.

In his motorcade talks and in his hour-long address, Johnson made a strong pitch for Young, who is opposed for re-election by Congressman-at - large Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati.

"I haven't served with any man in the House or in the Senate that in my heart I believed worked for the average people more than Steve Young," the President added generously to his prepared text fore and aft and ad-libbed freely as he went along.

"Polls in Ohio show 65 pert cent are for the Democratic candidates for president and vice president," Johnson said. He urged that his audience keep this lead by turning out full force at the polls.

President Declares He'll Never Sell TVA

EN ROUTE WITH JOHNSON (AP) — President Johnson hoisted a "not for sale" sign over TVA today as he invaded Kentucky and Tennessee with a claim that the major campaign issue is whether to build up or tear down.

Johnson, in this third day of a six-day circuit through 11 states, emphasized a question on which he and Republican rival Barry Goldwater clearly are divided — the future of the depression-born Tennessee Valley Authority.

And the President used this issue to emphasize a broader campaign argument — that he would build on the present in search of a better future whereas, in his view, his opposition wants to "repeal the present and veto the future."

Johnson, in a speech prepared for an audience in Nashville, Tenn., said:

"I believe this is a time to build up. And that is the main issue of this campaign.

"The issue is whether the American people want to continue to build our nation on those policies and principles that have guided us for generations to new heights of greatness — or whether they want to tear down all we have worked to achieve."

Tshombe Gets Release, On Way To Paris

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe of the Congo sped to Paris today for a weekend visit after stealing the show from the conference of nonaligned nations in Cairo as an involuntary absentee.

Freed from house arrest in a palace on the outskirts of the Egyptian capital, Tshombe took a commercial plane to Athens.

The 44-year-old premier said he planned to spend two days in Paris before returning to Leopoldville.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who had held Tshombe under house arrest since his arrival Tuesday, freed him after the premier lifted the blockade on the embassies of the United Arab Republic and Algeria in Leopoldville.

Tshombe had come to Cairo for the nonaligned conference despite a telegram that he would not be welcome. Cairo airport refused his plane permission to land Monday and he flew on to Athens. When he returned early Tuesday, Nasser clapped him into Aruba Palace on the outskirts of Cairo and the conference voted not to admit him.

The Congolese premier is hated by many African leaders for his collaboration with Europeans during his secessionist regime in Katanga Province, his part in the slaying of Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba and his employment of white mercenaries against Communist-backed rebels in the Congo.

Those Backed By FHA, VA

Foreclosures Of Homes Running At Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreclosures of homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages are running at an all-time high. The same goes for house loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

But, the situation is not cause for alarm, say spokesmen for both the VA and the Federal Housing Administration. They call it an adjustment toward normalcy, from shortly after World War II when realtors eagerly looked for houses to sell up to recent years when supply more nearly met demand.

The VA spokesman put it this way: "A big factor is absence of price appreciation in the past few years. A few years ago a mistake in judgment as to value of a house could be remedied by just holding on to it a year or two. That time has passed."

FHA and VA officials agreed that foreclosures are up or down with the economic pulse of a community or area and the individuals affected. When a military base or an industry shuts down, foreclosures in that area are up.

When a man is out of a job, he may have to let his house go. The next leading reason, from the individuals' standpoint, is death of a husband or wife, divorce, or costly illness in the family.

The foreclosure trend is not limited to mortgages insured or guaranteed by the government, but prevails, though to a lesser degree, throughout the house financing industry, according to an official of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

By far the biggest share of home financing now is through so-called conventional loans — those obtained from banks, savings and loan associations, private companies and individuals.

Data compiled by the board, which insures savings deposited with savings and loan associations, shows that in 1963 conventional loans were used for 77 per cent of all houses bought on time, while the FHA accounted for 15 per cent and the VA only 8 per cent.

Only World War II and Korean War veterans are eligible for the VA's house loan guaranty program, so its operations in this field are now declining.

Pennsy Flagman Hurt In Mishap At Leetonia

LEETONIA — A Pennsylvania Railroad Co. flagman was seriously injured and 50 feet of track was torn up when the caboose of a west-bound freight was derailed here this morning. The caboose rolled over on its side at the edge of the tracks.

Miles E. Miller, 64, of Louisville, a flagman inside the caboose at the time of the accident, was taken by ambulance to Salem City Hospital and later transferred to Mercy Hospital where he was scheduled to undergo surgery for brain injuries. He was listed in "poor" condition.

U.S. Copter Pilot Killed By Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army helicopter pilot was shot and killed by Viet Cong fire today minutes after stepping out of his disabled machine 370 miles northeast of Saigon.

His death brought to 201 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in combat in Viet Nam since 1961.

The helicopter had been supporting a Vietnamese ground action when it was forced down, either by mechanical trouble or enemy fire.

The crew, two officers and two enlisted men, successfully landed the crippled helicopter and had just stepped out when a bullet killed the pilot.

Another helicopter rescued the surviving crewmen. Ground troops later drove the Viet Cong from the area.

Premier Nguyen Khanh announced today that 20 officers and civilians accused of taking part in the abortive Sept. 13 coup will be tried next week for high treason.

All could receive the death penalty.

LISBON — A 37-year-old Fort Wayne (Ind.) man was killed Thursday night when his Volkswagen struck a truck parked partially on Route 62 west of Salem and rammed head-on into an oncoming auto.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Robert E. Jacob died from a fractured skull and other injuries when his 1960 auto hit the truck then the auto and overturned.

Mr. Jacob was headed east when he came upon the disabled truck of Emeric Michael Stanar, 21, of Youngstown, which was partially on the roadway of the four-lane section of highway four miles east of Alliance.

Mr. Jacob swerved to avoid the crash, but his car hit the truck and he then lost control, the small car veering left of center over a concrete divider strip and ramming head-on into an oncoming auto driven by Eleanor Campbell, 24, of Sebring.

The Volkswagen overturned on its top, officers said.

The woman suffered lacerations of the forehead and right knee. She and Mr. Jacob were taken to Alliance City Hospital. The mishap was timed at 8 p. m.

This marked the 24th Columbiana County Highway fatality this year, compared to 25 at this time in 1963.

THE GERMAN FREIGHTER "Maria Althoff" lies low in choppy seas off the Dutch coast after being battered by North Sea storms Thursday. U.S. To Urge Loss Of Vote

Soviet Pressed To Pay UN Fees

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Suggestions to postpone the opening of the U.N. General Assembly were heard in U.N. corridors today after the United States called for a showdown over the Soviet Union's refusal to pay its peacekeeping assessments.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson gave notice to Secretary-General U Thant Thursday that when the assembly opens Nov. 10, the United States will demand that the Soviet Union and nine other delinquent nations pay up or lose their votes in the assembly.

The Soviet Union has hinted it will quit the United Nations if it loses its vote.

The announcement of Stevenson's memorandum to Thant generated talk of postponing the showdown in hopes that the United States and the Soviet Union would work out a compromise.

One suggestion was for the assembly to open in December, then adjourn until January.

A diplomat said U.N. officials were considering a two-week postponement, but he expressed doubt there would be one.

Stevenson's memorandum was made public after Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in Washington that the Soviet refusal to pay any of its $55-million debt affected the constitutional structure of the United Nations.

Although the Soviet Union has paid its assessments for regular operations of the U.N., its refusal to pay anything toward the peace forces in the Congo or the Middle East has put it among 10 nations that are now two years behind in total U.N. dues.

The U.S. memorandum noted that under Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, any member two years in arrears shall be deprived of its assembly vote.

The Soviet Union contends that assessments ordered by the assembly for the two peacekeeping operations are illegal because only the Security Council has the right to initiate and finance such operations.

The U.S. memorandum cited a 1962 opinion by the World Court that the assembly has the right to levy assessments for the peace operations.

State Aide Explains Plan

Part-Time Commissioner Eyed By Health Board

Various methods of employing a professional health commissioner, who would be employed part-time in East Liverpool, were outlined to the Board of Health at its meeting Thursday night by Dr. Thomas A. Gardner of Columbus.

Chief of the Bureau of Local Services of the State Department of Health, Dr. Gardner explained and answered questions on three possible plans.

The board took the proposals under advisement and is expected to receive additional information later.

It has been studying the possibilities because of the retirement of Septimus Cook, which was effective Sept. 30.

Dr. Gardner explained one plan is for the city and county health departments to go together, retain their individual identity and share in the services of a health commissioner.

The commissione would become administrative head of the local department although working only part-time here, he explained. His salary would be based on the number of days for which the local board contracted for his services.

Another plan would permit a board to contract for services while the third proposal is for various health boards to merge into one organization with each having representation and then hire a health commissioner.

Dr. Gardner was accompanied by Alex Echols of Cuyahoga Falls, district representative of the State Health Department, and F. H. Bezdek, a member of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

The board also voted to pay the salary and half a month's mileage for Mrs. Edna Jones, R.N., who worked during the vacation of Miss Selma Ladzinske.

Decision Due In 10 Days On Dr. Sheppard

Judges Will Decide If He Remains Free Or Returns To Pen

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three federal judges are expected to rule in ten days on whether Dr. Sam Sheppard will remain free on $10,000 bond or go back to prison.

A hearing was held Thursday in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe asked the judges to send the 40-year-old Bay Village osteopath back to prison.

Saxbe said Sheppard did not follow proper procedure in going into federal courts before the Ohio Supreme Court was asked to judge whether his constitutional rights were violated. John T. Corrigan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, supported this stand and said not all publicity in Sheppard's case was hostile.

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, charged that Sheppard did not get a fair trial in 1954 because of newspaper publicity. Bailey also argued that several serious errors were committed during the trial.

Sheppard was arrested after his wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned to death. He was indicted on a first degree murder charge and sentenced to life imprisonment after a jury convicted him of second degree murder. He has never stopped denying his guilt.

Foreclosures Of Homes Running At Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreclosures of homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages are running at an all-time high. The same goes for house loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

By far the biggest share of home financing now is through so-called conventional loans — those obtained from banks, savings and loan associations, private companies and individuals.

Data compiled by the board, which insures savings deposited with savings and loan associations, shows that in 1963 conventional loans were used for 77 per cent of all houses bought on time, while the FHA accounted for 15 per cent and the VA only 8 per cent.

Only World War II and Korean War veterans are eligible for the VA's house loan guaranty program, so its operations in this field are now declining.

U.S. To Urge Loss Of Vote

Soviet Pressed To Pay UN Fees

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Suggestions to postpone the opening of the U.N. General Assembly were heard in U.N. corridors today after the United States called for a showdown over the Soviet Union's refusal to pay its peacekeeping assessments.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson gave notice to Secretary-General U Thant Thursday that when the assembly opens Nov. 10, the United States will demand that the Soviet Union and nine other delinquent nations pay up or lose their votes in the assembly.

The Soviet Union has hinted it will quit the United Nations if it loses its vote.

The announcement of Stevenson's memorandum to Thant generated talk of postponing the showdown in hopes that the United States and the Soviet Union would work out a compromise.

One suggestion was for the assembly to open in December, then adjourn until January.

A diplomat said U.N. officials were considering a two-week postponement, but he expressed doubt there would be one.

Stevenson's memorandum was made public after Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in Washington that the Soviet refusal to pay any of its $55-million debt affected the constitutional structure of the United Nations.

Although the Soviet Union has paid its assessments for regular operations of the U.N., its refusal to pay anything toward the peace forces in the Congo or the Middle East has put it among 10 nations that are now two years behind in total U.N. dues.

The U.S. memorandum noted that under Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, any member two years in arrears shall be deprived of its assembly vote.

The Soviet Union contends that assessments ordered by the assembly for the two peacekeeping operations are illegal because only the Security Council has the right to initiate and finance such operations.

The U.S. memorandum cited a 1962 opinion by the World Court that the assembly has the right to levy assessments for the peace operations.

State Aide Explains Plan

Part-Time Commissioner Eyed By Health Board

Various methods of employing a professional health commissioner, who would be employed part-time in East Liverpool, were outlined to the Board of Health at its meeting Thursday night by Dr. Thomas A. Gardner of Columbus.

Chief of the Bureau of Local Services of the State Department of Health, Dr. Gardner explained and answered questions on three possible plans.

The board took the proposals under advisement and is expected to receive additional information later.

It has been studying the possibilities because of the retirement of Septimus Cook, which was effective Sept. 30.

Dr. Gardner explained one plan is for the city and county health departments to go together, retain their individual identity and share in the services of a health commissioner.

The commissione would become administrative head of the local department although working only part-time here, he explained. His salary would be based on the number of days for which the local board contracted for his services.

Another plan would permit a board to contract for services while the third proposal is for various health boards to merge into one organization with each having representation and then hire a health commissioner.

Dr. Gardner was accompanied by Alex Echols of Cuyahoga Falls, district representative of the State Health Department, and F. H. Bezdek, a member of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

The board also voted to pay the salary and half a month's mileage for Mrs. Edna Jones, R.N., who worked during the vacation of Miss Selma Ladzinske.

Decision Due In 10 Days On Dr. Sheppard

Judges Will Decide If He Remains Free Or Returns To Pen

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three federal judges are expected to rule in ten days on whether Dr. Sam Sheppard will remain free on $10,000 bond or go back to prison.

A hearing was held Thursday in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe asked the judges to send the 40-year-old Bay Village osteopath back to prison.

Saxbe said Sheppard did not follow proper procedure in going into federal courts before the Ohio Supreme Court was asked to judge whether his constitutional rights were violated. John T. Corrigan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, supported this stand and said not all publicity in Sheppard's case was hostile.

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, charged that Sheppard did not get a fair trial in 1954 because of newspaper publicity. Bailey also argued that several serious errors were committed during the trial.

Sheppard was arrested after his wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned to death. He was indicted on a first degree murder charge and sentenced to life imprisonment after a jury convicted him of second degree murder. He has never stopped denying his guilt.

30 Viet Nam Civilians Killed Accidentally

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Well-informed military sources reported today that Vietnamese air force fighters accidentally strafed a large group of civilians just south of Saigon Sept. 27, killing 30 and wounding 20.

The attack was reported to have resulted from intelligence that sampans moving on a river 30 miles southeast of here were carrying Viet Cong troops. This intelligence proved false after an investigation of the casualties.

Midland Aid For Fire Units Authorized

Midland Council Thursday night passed a motion to allow an additional $1,083 in next year's budget for the borough volunteer fire departments.

The money, to be earmarked for various insurance and death benefits for department members, was approved on the motion of Councilman Joseph Hibbard.

Mayor Eli Corak appointed Councilmen Steve Germusa and Hibbard as delegates of the institute on "Local Government In Racial and Community Tensions" next month in Hershy.

Corak had received an invitation from Gov. William Scranton, inviting borough officials and to attend. Other members were also urged by Corak to make the trip if at all possible, noting the benefits that may be gained from the meeting.

E. Wilson Purdy, commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police, will be chairman of the institute.

In other action, Corak asked Council to request Solicitor Frank Suffoletta to check the deed to a plot of land owned by the borough to determine if it can be turned over to Beaver County for use as a recreation site.

The property, on the south side of the river at abandoned Dam 7, was previously given to the borough by the federal government.

Council approved the mayor's appointment of Charles Sallis Jr. as a patrolman and acknowledged a request of Corak that the Civil Service Commission prepare tests to certify a list of candidates for any other future openings on the police department.

The borough secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, on a motion by Councilman Ray Presutti, was instructed to forward letters to the Crucible Steel Co., Richard Zinn, engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and Floree J. Aquino, Beaver County representative for Region 111 of the Air Pollution Control Association, to determine why Crucible had made no statement as to its intent on elimination of the oft-discussed air pollution problem in Midland.

Both Zinn and Aquino visited Council several times to discuss the situation and possible remedies.

The secretary was also authorized to publish a legal notice of intentions to renew the borough's wage tax for 1965.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said the Atlantic Refining Co. of Pittsburgh had contacted him concerning a plot of land at the 12th St. entrance of Crucible Steel, where the borough had proposed widening of the entrance to help ease traffic congestion.

Steebner said the firm would sell the 30-foot frontage lot for $7,500, or only a 12-foot strip required for the project for $2,500. The offer is to be studied.

The engineer also reported on various projects suggested following an inspection by the North American Insurance Co. in May.

Representatives of a television cable firm attended the session and were told that all available firms providing such service would be investigated before a decision is made on who gets a franchise in Midland.

Council said that it wants to be sure of the best facility available before committing the borough to an installation.

A request of Andrew Gabor to cut the curb for a driveway was granted.

Officers' reports were accepted as submitted, and all bills were ordered paid. William Vinovich, president, presided.

Air Force Opens Administrative Posts To Recruits

Sgt. Ray M. Stanley, local Air Force recruiter, announced that in October, the Air Force will make it possible for an increased number of high school graduates to enlist in the administrative career field.

In all other career areas, including electronics, mechanical and general, the openings have been cut back from 6 to 34 per cent, he said.

Sgt. Stanley explained that for several months the Air Force has stressed so heavily the procurement of mechanical and electronics personnel that an unusual number of vacancies have developed in the administration area.

These jobs include air transportation, finance, personnel, postal administration, chaplain assistants, legal administration, stenographers, supply technicians, special services administrators and communication operators.

A special Air Force testing period has been set for 1:30 p.m. each Monday at the recruiting office in City Hall. The aptitude examination is given without obligation, he said. He may be contacted at the office at City Hall Mondays from 1 to 4 p.m. and Wednesdays from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Touched Off Search In England

2 Ohio Girls Who Wanted To See World Back Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Escorted off the plane by her umbrella-swinging mother, Martha Schendel and her friend, Janice Hawkins, returned home Thursday night after a three-week unannounced jaunt to England.

The girls, both 16-year-old students at Cleveland Heights High School, had touched off a nationwide search in England, with Scotland Yard concentrating on the London area.

They were found in London Wednesday by a policewoman.

Cleveland Heights police chief Edward F. Gaffney added a postscript to the trip: "I'm glad they were found. Now maybe I'll get some work done around here."

Mrs. Schendel lashed out with her umbrella at photographers gathered near the airplane. "Go away," she shouted, and hit several cameramen with the umbrella. The girls refused to talk to newsmen.

The girls were escorted by two Cleveland Heights detectives, who met the plane from London in New York. A police car whisked them into the rainy night. The girls had been put on the overseas flight by Consul Henry Lilienfield of the American Embassy in London.

The two teen-agers arrived home with $1,100 of the $2,000 life savings they started with.

Lilienfield said the girls told him they hadn't gone to England to see the Beatles, as was first suspected.

"We weren't that much Beatles fans or Rolling Stones (another sing group) fans or anything else," the girls said. "We wanted to see the world. We've been saving our money for a long time to see the world."

Clinical Congress Told Of Removal Of 26-Lb. Tumor

CHICAGO (AP)—Surgical removal of a 26-pound, watermelon-shaped tumor—believed to be one of the largest growths on record—was described today.

Dr. William G. Wasson of Aultman Hospital, Canton, Ohio, told about it in a filmed report to the 50th Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

He said the apparently nonmalignant growth was removed from the upper abdomen of a 69-year-old woman. The tumor had been present for about 50 years and had grown steadily, although producing virtually no symptoms except cosmetic ones.

The mass was so large, the doctor said, that it was necessary for the woman to compress it to her body with a wide, tight cloth binder—and she wore custom made dresses to obscure the growth.

Doctor Wasson said the patient finally came to a doctor because the tumor began to drain and was becoming slightly painful. He said it was necessary to support the tumor mass during the operation with a complex pulley-like arrangement.

Auto Sales Gain, Tax Data Shows

A sales tax report issued today at Columbus by State Treasurer John D. Herbert indicated new car sales in Columbiana County are continuing an upturn, compared with the same time last year.

Auto sales produced $22,856 in taxes in the two weeks ending Oct. 3, up $1,473 from the $21,383 shown at the same time in 1963. Since the start of the fiscal year July 1, the taxes have brought in $197,610, a boost of $20,080 over the $177,530 listed at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

Other sales tax sources netted $31,361 in the two weeks ending Oct. 3, down $3,232 from the $34,593 shown at the same time in 1963. For the current fiscal year, the taxes total $354,810, off $14,831 from the $369,641 shown at the same time in 1963.

Len Chappell, 6-foot-8 corner man from Wake Forest, paced the New York Knickerbockers in scoring last season. In 79 games he averaged just over 17 points a game.

Pickup Slated At Chester For Home Donations

Representatives of the Bethany Children's Home in Wolfe County, Ky., will visit Chester Nov. 1 to pick up clothing, furniture and other articles for the institution supported by charity.

A truck will collect the donations at the Harvey Pickens home, 250 Carolina Ave.

Anyone who cannot deliver donations may call the Pickens family, EV. 7-2778, and they will be picked up before the truck arrives.

Several area residents have worked at the children's home, and a truck is sent to this area each year for donations for the home and the youngsters.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperature moderating somewhat Saturday morning through Wednesday night, but still averaging 4-8 degrees below normal. Representative normal high and low temperatures are Cleveland 65-43, Columbus 68-44 and Cincinnati 72-49. Gradual warming over the weekend but turning colder again about Tuesday. Rainfall will average three-quarters of an inch or more with rain early next week and rain or showers at frequent intervals through Wednesday night.

Surprise Alarm Gives Firemen Efficiency Test

Chester volunteer firemen were surprised with an efficiency test Thursday night at 6:30 as part of the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

The fire alarm system at the Faulk Bros. Co. feed mill on Carolina Ave. was tested, setting off the big siren of the fire department.

Eighteen of 21 firemen in the department responded to the surprise alarm with two trucks. Alton Johnson, assistant chief, and Jed Wilson, captain, were in charge of the drill.

All firemen later were taken on an inspection tour of the building as a matter of future reference in the event of a real fire.

Johnson and Wilson said they were "well satisfied" with the turnout of the men and "the orderly manner in which they answered the alarm."

2 Ohio Girls Who Wanted To See World Back Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Escorted off the plane by her umbrella-swinging mother, Martha Schendel and her friend, Janice Hawkins, returned home Thursday night after a three-week unannounced jaunt to England.

The girls, both 16-year-old students at Cleveland Heights High School, had touched off a nationwide search in England, with Scotland Yard concentrating on the London area.

They were found in London Wednesday by a policewoman.

Cleveland Heights police chief Edward F. Gaffney added a postscript to the trip: "I'm glad they were found. Now maybe I'll get some work done around here."

Mrs. Schendel lashed out with her umbrella at photographers gathered near the airplane. "Go away," she shouted, and hit several cameramen with the umbrella. The girls refused to talk to newsmen.

The girls were escorted by two Cleveland Heights detectives, who met the plane from London in New York. A police car whisked them into the rainy night. The girls had been put on the overseas flight by Consul Henry Lilienfield of the American Embassy in London.

The two teen-agers arrived home with $1,100 of the $2,000 life savings they started with.

Lilienfield said the girls told him they hadn't gone to England to see the Beatles, as was first suspected.

"We weren't that much Beatles fans or Rolling Stones (another sing group) fans or anything else," the girls said. "We wanted to see the world. We've been saving our money for a long time to see the world."

Surprise Alarm Gives Firemen Efficiency Test

Chester volunteer firemen were surprised with an efficiency test Thursday night at 6:30 as part of the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

The fire alarm system at the Faulk Bros. Co. feed mill on Carolina Ave. was tested, setting off the big siren of the fire department.

Eighteen of 21 firemen in the department responded to the surprise alarm with two trucks. Alton Johnson, assistant chief, and Jed Wilson, captain, were in charge of the drill.

All firemen later were taken on an inspection tour of the building as a matter of future reference in the event of a real fire.

Johnson and Wilson said they were "well satisfied" with the turnout of the men and "the orderly manner in which they answered the alarm."

Fan, 72, First Again In Line At New York

NEW YORK (AP) — An Upstate New Yorker took up his customary position outside Yankee Stadium Thursday afternoon, first in line for a bleacher seat for Saturday's third game of the World Series.

Charles Kierst, 72, a retired fireman from Auburn, N.Y., said it was the eighth time he had been first in line for a Series game at the stadium.

Clinical Congress Told Of Removal Of 26-Lb. Tumor

CHICAGO (AP)—Surgical removal of a 26-pound, watermelon-shaped tumor—believed to be one of the largest growths on record—was described today.

Dr. William G. Wasson of Aultman Hospital, Canton, Ohio, told about it in a filmed report to the 50th Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

He said the apparently nonmalignant growth was removed from the upper abdomen of a 69-year-old woman. The tumor had been present for about 50 years and had grown steadily, although producing virtually no symptoms except cosmetic ones.

The mass was so large, the doctor said, that it was necessary for the woman to compress it to her body with a wide, tight cloth binder—and she wore custom made dresses to obscure the growth.

Doctor Wasson said the patient finally came to a doctor because the tumor began to drain and was becoming slightly painful. He said it was necessary to support the tumor mass during the operation with a complex pulley-like arrangement.

Summitville Church To Hold Fall Festival

SUMMITVILLE — A fall festival will be held by the St. John Catholic Church Oct. 18 at the Parish Hall.

A turkey dinner will be served from noon to 5 p.m. A program of games will be sponsored in the afternoon, and a dance from 9 to midnight. The Twilighters will provide music.

Job Mishaps Injure 3 Men

Three men injured in work mishaps today and Thursday were among 11 area residents treated at City Hospital.

John Franczek, 38, of 920 Washington St., Newell, was treated this morning for injuries of the left little finger suffered on a grinding mill at Globe Brick Co.

George Williams, 37, of Wellsville R.D. 1 received a fractured right index finger when caught between two pipes at the American Vitrified Products Co.

In a fall at home, Anne Granito, 3, daughter of Felix Granito, 107 Midland Ave., Midland, suffered a laceration over the right eye.

Struck by his brother with a coffee can, Billy Postich, 6, son of Sam Pestich, 350 Midland Ave., Midland, received a cut of the forehead.

Raymond Willison, 16, son of Warren Willison of Calcutta, was treated for a large laceration of the back of the head received when struck by a stone.

George Gillispie, son of Harold Gillespie, 180 Indiana Ave., Chester, received a hand injury playing basketball.

Frank McElhaney, 18, son of David McElhaney of 4th Ave., LaCroft, suffered an injury to the right hand in gym class.

Thomas Jackson, 40, of 324 Haywood St., was treated for a cut of the right hand received on a piece of tin at home.

Auto Sales Gain, Tax Data Shows

A sales tax report issued today at Columbus by State Treasurer John D. Herbert indicated new car sales in Columbiana County are continuing an upturn, compared with the same time last year.

Auto sales produced $22,856 in taxes in the two weeks ending Oct. 3, up $1,473 from the $21,383 shown at the same time in 1963. Since the start of the fiscal year July 1, the taxes have brought in $197,610, a boost of $20,080 over the $177,530 listed at the same time in the preceding fiscal year.

Other sales tax sources netted $31,361 in the two weeks ending Oct. 3, down $3,232 from the $34,593 shown at the same time in 1963. For the current fiscal year, the taxes total $354,810, off $14,831 from the $369,641 shown at the same time in 1963.

Len Chappell, 6-foot-8 corner man from Wake Forest, paced the New York Knickerbockers in scoring last season. In 79 games he averaged just over 17 points a game.

Pickup Slated At Chester For Home Donations

Representatives of the Bethany Children's Home in Wolfe County, Ky., will visit Chester Nov. 1 to pick up clothing, furniture and other articles for the institution supported by charity.

A truck will collect the donations at the Harvey Pickens home, 250 Carolina Ave.

Anyone who cannot deliver donations may call the Pickens family, EV. 7-2778, and they will be picked up before the truck arrives.

Several area residents have worked at the children's home, and a truck is sent to this area each year for donations for the home and the youngsters.

Air Force Opens Administrative Posts To Recruits

Sgt. Ray M. Stanley, local Air Force recruiter, announced that in October, the Air Force will make it possible for an increased number of high school graduates to enlist in the administrative career field.

In all other career areas, including electronics, mechanical and general, the openings have been cut back from 6 to 34 per cent, he said.

Sgt. Stanley explained that for several months the Air Force has stressed so heavily the procurement of mechanical and electronics personnel that an unusual number of vacancies have developed in the administration area.

These jobs include air transportation, finance, personnel, postal administration, chaplain assistants, legal administration, stenographers, supply technicians, special services administrators and communication operators.

A special Air Force testing period has been set for 1:30 p.m. each Monday at the recruiting office in City Hall. The aptitude examination is given without obligation, he said. He may be contacted at the office at City Hall Mondays from 1 to 4 p.m. and Wednesdays from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Tokyo Olympics

"War minus the shooting" was how George Orwell once characterized international sports competition and this is one way to look at the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo.

The long-standing Soviet-American rivalry will be renewed and partisans will play the numbers game with unofficial point totals to claim national superiority.

But this could go down in Olympic history as the year the world started paying proper attention the the performances of athletes from noncombatant nations. World standards of athletic performance are rising rapidly and a growing number of non-Russian and non-American athletes will be wearing gold medals before it's over.

THE JAPANESE, for example, are keyed almost to fever pitch for the big sports festival. Their team leader talks of taking 16 gold medals (compared with only 4 won at Rome in 1960). Japan is the only nation to have entered contestants in all 20 sports. A record 99 countries are sending more than 6,600 athletes to Tokyo in quest of medals and national prestige.

The United States is sending 363 athletes to compete in 18 sports (all except soccer and field hockey). At Rome four years ago, Americans won 34 gold medals, 21 silver and 16 bronze medals.

It has been predicted that U.S. athletes could win 35 gold, 29 silver and 33 bronze medals if all goes well. The form sheet calls for Americans to pick up 10 gold medals in men's track and field, 11 in men's swimming and diving, 3 in women's swimming, 3 in women's track and field, 2 in boxing, 2 in shooting, and one each in basketball, wresting, yachting and rowing.

Soviet athletes won 43 gold medals in 1960 as compared with our 34, many of them in the so-called minor sports. This time they are shooting specifically for 12 gold medals in track and field events—heretofore the weak spot in the Soviet sports effort.

Russian athletes were somewhat less than Olympian when they took on the United States at a dual track and field meet in Los Angeles last July. Then the Russian men lost by a score of 139-97, and the Soviet women contrived only a marginal victory, 59-48.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES have been called the greatest and oldest show on earth. Although the modern Olympiad dates back only 68 years, the original Olympics were held in ancient Greece every four years for 12 centuries. The ancient Greeks even dated their calendar from 775 B.C., the year the first Olympics were recorded.

Soon the games became the glory of all Greece, symbolizing the combination of strength and beauty that its people revered. Professionalism, discord and scandal were to deprive the Olympics of both their purity and their appeal to lovers of the ancient tradition. In 394 A.D., the Roman Emperor Theodosium abolished them in a fit of zeal against pagan spectacles.

Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a French nobleman, revived the Olympics in 1896 as a vehicle for international understanding. His concept has been strained of late by the tendency to treat the games as grist for political propaganda.

Perhaps this will mark the year the world takes to heart de Coubertin's philosophy that "the important thing in the Olympic games is not to win, but to take part."

Odd Way To Be 'Nonaligned'

Moise Tshombe has been pretty much a political outcast since his return to power as Congo premier and, in the eyes of the so-called nonaligned nations, he is about as welcome as a policeman at a dice game.

Tshombe's trouble, it seems, is that he hasn't seen fit to lean in the same political direction as the rest of the nonaligned group. He keeps flexing his muscles at the leftists bent on gaining control of his country.

THIS IS WHY Tshombe found himself under house arrest by Egypt's Nasser after he defied Nasser by barging into the Cairo conference uninvited. Tshombe's presence, it was said, might disrupt the conference, although his forced absence probably has been far more disruptive.

About one-third of the world's population and half the United Nations membership is represented at the conference, but no member, with the possible exception of the presiding Nasser, has received so much attention as Tshombe.

The proposals being served to the conference delegates give some indication of the direction in which this non-aligned alliance may be heading.

Nasser has appealed for admission of Red China in the United Nations. Yugoslavia's Tito has pleaded for support of the Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence. Indonesia's Sukarno, more and more a parrot for Peking, seeks formation of a third world bloc and a concerted effort to combat "imperialism."

AND SUKARNO has been joined by representatives of Yugoslavia, Ghana, the United Arab Republic and Algeria in branding Tshombe "the tool of imperialism."

All this must have sounded strange indeed to Tshombe as he watched the conference proceedings on television from the Aruba Palace. Like us, he probably wonders how long these nations can keep calling themselves "nonaligned" without writing a new definition for the term.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

As usual, this political campaign year has spawned a swarm of charges that statements are being quoted out of context. It makes one wonder about some of the maxims that have come down to us through the years.

Many of them are attributed to Benjamin Franklin and to Aesop, but many of those same ones had their origins much earlier in slightly different forms.

There have been various parlor games in which old sayings are revised or added to and who knows but some of the sayings may have been used in those revised forms centuries ago.

As a sample let us say, "A rolling stone gathers no moss and isn't square."

How many of the modern statements quoted out of context will echo down through the ages in their misquoted form?

Breathes there a politician of either sex who has not been quoted out of context.

Take the problem of going to the moon. Some space scientist may be quoted as saying, "We will land a man on the moon by 1970." But what he may actually have said was, "We will land a man on the moon by 1970 if we can get someone there first to prepare a landing place for him." If that sounds like a non sequitur it is typical of the political talk heard these days.

You remember that old one that goes, "Don't believe anything you hear and only half of what you see." This is the year to heed that one.

The old pastime of bear-baiting has been replaced by televised press conferences in which a politician fields a batch of hostile questions. To a commoner like me, it is entertaining to see a candidate or spokesman give a two-minute answer to a question and antagonize a minimum of those opposed to him. It is always fun to try to repeat just what he said, which oftens turns out to be nothing.

A lot of wisecracks used to be credited to Alfred E. Smith, one-time governor of New York and presidential candidate. A member of his family was asked if he really said all those things and the answer was, "No, but if the public liked the gag he didn't mind claiming it." That is taken out of context and may not be exactly accurate but it is close.

There is always the possibility that something taken out of context may be closer to the truth in the long run than the whole context. Many contexts can stand some refining, you know.

For instance, suppose some of our treasured sayings had come down to us as follows:

Spare the rod and spoil the child and risk lightning.

He who hesitates is lost along with those who didn't.

A penny saved is a penny earned the hard way.

A stitch in time saves nine and causes unemployment.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush except to sportsmen.

A barking dog seldom bites the hand that feeds it.

It is too cold to snow except at the Poles.

An ill wind blows nobody good except the doctor.

Time is money if you get paid for watching the clock.

Be not the first by whom the new is tried nor yet the last to lay the old aside especially if you are a candidate.

Giant oaks from little acorns grow unless they get the ax.

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise and keeps him from the late show.

Haste makes waste which is worse than not making anything.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Odd Facts

Atlantic City, one of the largest seaside resorts in the world, is famous for its boardwalk, which is 60 feet wide and stretches for about seven miles along the ocean front. This walk, made of wood, steel and concrete, is lined with theaters, shops, restaurants and hotels. Convention Hall, on the boardwalk, seats 41,000, making it the largest such hall in the world. This is where the Miss America Pageant takes place every September.

The ruby-throated hummingbird, only 3¾ inches long, can hover over a flower by beating its wings 55 times a second. By beating 75 times a second, it can dart at speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. Its great energy requires nearly continuous feeding. At night the bird becomes almost comatose, so cold and nearly immobile that it cannot fly.

Americans during the past year drove about 741 billion miles. Figuring there are about 68.5 million privately and publicly owned cars, the over-all travel figure works out to about 10,825 miles per auto.

The most distant of the planets in the heavens which are visible to the naked eye is Saturn.

The Chicago 'Boys' Sour On Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

"The Boys" in this turbulent city have long been the real base for Jimmie Hoffa's power in the teamsters' brotherhood.

Victor Riesel

But, no more. They've had him. Their loyalty to him, which made this tough town more his iron bailiwick than his own Detroit, has melted under new heat from the government. With Bob Kennedy out of the government, the pressure is now from the Treasury Department. Those Chicago teamsters who are the truly anonymous power in the sprawling union, believe that as long as Hoffa's free, they'll simply go out of the Justice Department's frying pan into the fire of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

They don't like it. "The Boys" from Chicago are notoriously allergic to the IRS. Recent developments have made them nervous.

A CASE IN POINT is the Treasury Department action against bellicose Joey Glimco's Teamsters Local 777. With this action the Treasury Department is charging, in effect, that Local 777 is not a union and that its funds should be taxed.

If this position of the Treasury Department is backed by the courts, the union would practically be dissolved. The case has been dormant in the dockets for several years.

But now the treasury has swung into action. The case was set for tax trial on Sept. 21, but Glimco, asked for and got a postponement.

Glimco, a close ally of Hoffa's, has been named by witnesses before the Senate racket committee as an intimate friend of leaders of what is traditionally known as the Mafia syndicate.

The Senate committee records describe him as one of the top 10 most active in the syndicate and a close friend of such Mafia chiefs as Tony Accardo and Sam Giancana.

AT ABOUT the same time, the IRS launched new proceedings against Hoffa himself. This is a civil action, not criminal. The civil nature of the action has not diminished "the boys'" intense interest in this new duel between Hoffa and a U.S. agency.

If the Treasury wins this one, it will have set some precedents which the "crowd" would find more disturbing than losing a fleet of Cadillacs.

In its latest action, taken early last month, the IRS seeks to tax Hoffa on money spent in his behalf by the union for 1958-59 legal expenses and considerable travel, hotel, insurance, and living costs.

The government is asking for an additional $52,000 in taxes covering those two years. But that could be only a beginning. The IRS could go back a decade as well as move on the 1960 to 1964 period—the period covering the two trials which ended in sentences totaling 13 years in the federal penitentiary.

ALL THIS has been thoroughly discussed by some teamsters here who simply don't want any more feuds with the federal government. Until recently they were willing to do little against Hoffa since they believe that he is going to jail anyway. They were willing to wait until the cell door clanged. But they've had second thoughts.

Now they want him to resign before his appeals are exhausted. They want a clean sweep of the national offices.

As the Chicago bloc sees it, the Washington headquarters needs leaders who are clean, who have been out of Hoffa's favor and whom the rest of the labor movement would accept — and the government as well.

The one man around whom all forces can rally is the teamsters western leader, Einor Mohn, now based in Los Angeles. He's honest and well respected by the teamsters and the rest of labor. He ran the national office when he was executive vice president just before Hoffa took over.

WITH HIM as president, the executive vice presidency would go to the lanky teamsters "egghead," Harold Gibbons of St. Louis, who has been battling Hoffa now for almost a year. This would leave only the aging national secretary - treasurer, Johnny English, who is nearing 80.

The Chicago crowd wants English to retire so it can take one of the three top posts for one of its own.

This combination would freeze out the redoubtable Johnny O'Rourke of New York. That

With Einer Mohn as president, the teamsters' brotherhood would be back in the AFL-CIO almost as soon as the ink dried on Hoffa's resignation.

There is little doubt that Mohn would soon have a seat on the AFL-CIO 20-member executive council, since there are at least six members of that high command who are lame ducks and have no position or even the slightest influence in their own unions.

THUS, EVEN IF Hoffa served only a few years in prison he could not bounce back into power in the teamsters because there would be a united front against him.

The power he concentrated in through the constitution which he himself revised would be in another's hands. The AFL-CIO leadership, which he has reviled and whose chief he has called "stupid," would now be tied closely to the Teamster brotherhood itself.

And the men in the big cities on whom he once counted to make up his personal power base would have been the very force which weakened him.

But he will not starve. He will have his $50,000-a-year pension and the knowledge that an ancient poet was right when he wrote of the inevitable end of the paths of glory.

The Silent Crowd

By David Lawrence

Big Turnouts Don't Necessarily Mean Victory

Judging by the news dispatches on the presidential campaign, it would appear that there is something significant about the outpouring of crowds for one candidate or another in particular sections of the country. Likewise, a great deal of importance is being attached to the fact that certain newspapers in one region are coming out for one candidate while various newspapers in another region are endorsing the other candidate.

David Lawrence

Neither crowds nor the endorsements by the press, however, have always been influential in reflecting the ultimate votes of a community or of a state or even of the nation.

Thus, for example, in 1909 William J. Gaynor was running for election as mayor of New York City. There were several newspapers in the metropolis, but most of them refused to endorse Gaynor. Yet, while he had virtually no newspaper support, he won the election just the same.

What was the reason? It was because the Tammany organization behind him was so well put together and operated so efficiently it didn't make much difference how much commendation was publicly given to his opponents.

MAYBE times have changed since then, but there is a lot of intensive work going on in various cities in the United States today by precinct workers and organizations of various kinds which are paying little attention to the endorsements being given by the press or by prominent individuals on either side.

Nor are crowds necessarily an indication of how public sentiment is lining up. Back in 1920, when this correspondent traveled on the campaign train with James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee, the crowds were noticeable in all parts of the country from coast to coast.

Mr. Cox had been three times governor of Ohio. He was an excellent speaker and he had the endorsement of President Woodrow Wilson, who was finishing his second term.

The Republican nominee, Sen. Warren G. Harding, on the other hand, conducted a "front porch" campaign and never left Marion, Ohio, except for four speeches away from his home town. But Sen. Harding won by a landslide of popular votes—the largest majority which up to that time had been given to any presidential candidate.

What do the crowds that greet a candidate really mean? All the crowds put together that are now turning out to cheer either President Johnson or Sen. Goldwater are an infinitesimal part of the total population of 110 million of voting age.

William Jennings Bryan, three times nominated for the presidency by the Democratic Party and three times defeated for election, drew the biggest crowds that any presidential candidate had assembled before then or since.

He was a remarkable speaker. His eloquence was acknowledged. Curiosity brought out the crowds. When it came to voting for him, however, the people balked. They seemed to feel that economic issues were more vital to them and, especially, that the unfavorable association of the Democratic Party with depression days in the past was more important than the appearance or personality of a candidate.

IT WILL BE recalled that in 1948 Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York made transcontinental trips and was received with ringing applause in many an auditorium.

His speeches were clear-cut. His background and training in the law gave his utterances a logical and fundamentally interesting sound to the people. But, again, Mr. Truman had made a good impression in his three years as president and, though there had been a depression in 1946 immediately after the war, the administration was benefited by an upturn in the economic curve.

Mr. Truman didn't do as much campaigning as Gov. Dewey but he won the election just the same.

So the crowds or the speechmaking have really had no controlling influence in many elections — though there have been times when a candidate who made good speeches was able to win, either with or without drawing crowds on his campaign travels.

Even in the 1960 campaign, there is no doubt that John F. Kennedy was the more spectacular of the two candidates. He drew large crowds. He made a very remarkable impression on television. Yet, in the final showdown, about 118,000 votes out of a total of 69 million made the difference between victory and defeat.

The silent vote is hard to figure, and the Democratic politicians and organizers today are taking nothing for granted. They are working hard irrespective of how big the crowds are or how favorable the public opinion polls happen to be to their candidate.

Nonintellectual Campaign?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Neither candidate in this presidential campaign has uttered a truly memorable phrase. It may turn out to be one of the most nonintellectual in history.

But that's not the only reason for the dullness of it. President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater have talked mostly in generalities, with the main themes stated so early, and repeated so often, they're monotonous.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press found a broad lack of enthusiasm for either candidate. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, asked if he thought the candidates and their running-mates were getting too personal, said last week: "I don't know. Something's wrong. It's confusing. I just can't define the issues."

Nevertheless, there is this main difference between the candidates.

Goldwater wants a smaller government, less dependence by the states on Washington, elimination of some programs, and rebukes for the Supreme Court, with promises to change its make-up and undo some of its decisions.

Johnson envisions continuation of big government with more and broader programs as he thinks necessary for the welfare of the people.

Goldwater says: "We want to give the government back to the people." Johnson says: "Americans are faced with a concerted bid for power by factions which oppose all that both parties have supported."

The main question, as in all presidential campaigns, is: Which man do the voters have more confidence in? Each of the candidates, therefore, insists he's the reliable one.

In the course of this Goldwater, labeled "impulsive" by the Democrats, says it's not he but Johnson who is "impulsive." Johnson tries to diminish Goldwater's importance by dismissing him as "reckless."

This is hardly an exciting dialogue. Both men, apparently aware of how the whole thing drags, have tried a touch of the spectacular. Both remember how Eisenhower made a big hit in 1952 by promising to go to Korea if elected.

Now Goldwater says he'll send Eisenhower to South Viet Nam if he's elected, although he didn't ask Eisenhower how he felt about it. And Eisenhower hasn't said if he'd go.

Johnson has let it be known that if he's elected he'll go to Europe in November or December for a big NATO conference. Not to be outdone Goldwater says he has his own plans for a NATO meeting if he's elected.

Both have discussed the war in Viet Nam. Neither has produced any positive solutions. Both insist they would be stanch guardians against Communist encroachments, although no presidential candidate could promise less.

Goldwater more recently found a new theme: He charged Johnson's administration with being "soft on communism." Again Johnson downgraded the notion by suggesting Goldwater think about it and then drop the subject.

There's no reason to think the tone or the themes of either man will become more lively or enlightening.

The Tokyo Olympics

"War minus the shooting" was how George Orwell once characterized international sports competition and this is one way to look at the 1964 Olympic games in Tokyo.

The long-standing Soviet-American rivalry will be renewed and partisans will play the numbers game with unofficial point totals to claim national superiority.

But this could go down in Olympic history as the year the world started paying proper attention the the performances of athletes from noncombatant nations. World standards of athletic performance are rising rapidly and a growing number of non-Russian and non-American athletes will be wearing gold medals before it's over.

THE JAPANESE, for example, are keyed almost to fever pitch for the big sports festival. Their team leader talks of taking 16 gold medals (compared with only 4 won at Rome in 1960). Japan is the only nation to have entered contestants in all 20 sports. A record 99 countries are sending more than 6,600 athletes to Tokyo in quest of medals and national prestige.

The United States is sending 363 athletes to compete in 18 sports (all except soccer and field hockey). At Rome four years ago, Americans won 34 gold medals, 21 silver and 16 bronze medals.

It has been predicted that U.S. athletes could win 35 gold, 29 silver and 33 bronze medals if all goes well. The form sheet calls for Americans to pick up 10 gold medals in men's track and field, 11 in men's swimming and diving, 3 in women's swimming, 3 in women's track and field, 2 in boxing, 2 in shooting, and one each in basketball, wresting, yachting and rowing.

Soviet athletes won 43 gold medals in 1960 as compared with our 34, many of them in the so-called minor sports. This time they are shooting specifically for 12 gold medals in track and field events—heretofore the weak spot in the Soviet sports effort.

Russian athletes were somewhat less than Olympian when they took on the United States at a dual track and field meet in Los Angeles last July. Then the Russian men lost by a score of 139-97, and the Soviet women contrived only a marginal victory, 59-48.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES have been called the greatest and oldest show on earth. Although the modern Olympiad dates back only 68 years, the original Olympics were held in ancient Greece every four years for 12 centuries. The ancient Greeks even dated their calendar from 775 B.C., the year the first Olympics were recorded.

Soon the games became the glory of all Greece, symbolizing the combination of strength and beauty that its people revered. Professionalism, discord and scandal were to deprive the Olympics of both their purity and their appeal to lovers of the ancient tradition. In 394 A.D., the Roman Emperor Theodosium abolished them in a fit of zeal against pagan spectacles.

Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a French nobleman, revived the Olympics in 1896 as a vehicle for international understanding. His concept has been strained of late by the tendency to treat the games as grist for political propaganda.

Perhaps this will mark the year the world takes to heart de Coubertin's philosophy that "the important thing in the Olympic games is not to win, but to take part."

Odd Way To Be 'Nonaligned'

Moise Tshombe has been pretty much a political outcast since his return to power as Congo premier and, in the eyes of the so-called nonaligned nations, he is about as welcome as a policeman at a dice game.

Tshombe's trouble, it seems, is that he hasn't seen fit to lean in the same political direction as the rest of the nonaligned group. He keeps flexing his muscles at the leftists bent on gaining control of his country.

THIS IS WHY Tshombe found himself under house arrest by Egypt's Nasser after he defied Nasser by barging into the Cairo conference uninvited. Tshombe's presence, it was said, might disrupt the conference, although his forced absence probably has been far more disruptive.

About one-third of the world's population and half the United Nations membership is represented at the conference, but no member, with the possible exception of the presiding Nasser, has received so much attention as Tshombe.

The proposals being served to the conference delegates give some indication of the direction in which this non-aligned alliance may be heading.

Nasser has appealed for admission of Red China in the United Nations. Yugoslavia's Tito has pleaded for support of the Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence. Indonesia's Sukarno, more and more a parrot for Peking, seeks formation of a third world bloc and a concerted effort to combat "imperialism."

AND SUKARNO has been joined by representatives of Yugoslavia, Ghana, the United Arab Republic and Algeria in branding Tshombe "the tool of imperialism."

All this must have sounded strange indeed to Tshombe as he watched the conference proceedings on television from the Aruba Palace. Like us, he probably wonders how long these nations can keep calling themselves "nonaligned" without writing a new definition for the term.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

As usual, this political campaign year has spawned a swarm of charges that statements are being quoted out of context. It makes one wonder about some of the maxims that have come down to us through the years.

Many of them are attributed to Benjamin Franklin and to Aesop, but many of those same ones had their origins much earlier in slightly different forms.

There have been various parlor games in which old sayings are revised or added to and who knows but some of the sayings may have been used in those revised forms centuries ago.

As a sample let us say, "A rolling stone gathers no moss and isn't square."

How many of the modern statements quoted out of context will echo down through the ages in their misquoted form?

Breathes there a politician of either sex who has not been quoted out of context.

Take the problem of going to the moon. Some space scientist may be quoted as saying, "We will land a man on the moon by 1970." But what he may actually have said was, "We will land a man on the moon by 1970 if we can get someone there first to prepare a landing place for him." If that sounds like a non sequitur it is typical of the political talk heard these days.

You remember that old one that goes, "Don't believe anything you hear and only half of what you see." This is the year to heed that one.

The old pastime of bear-baiting has been replaced by televised press conferences in which a politician fields a batch of hostile questions. To a commoner like me, it is entertaining to see a candidate or spokesman give a two-minute answer to a question and antagonize a minimum of those opposed to him. It is always fun to try to repeat just what he said, which oftens turns out to be nothing.

A lot of wisecracks used to be credited to Alfred E. Smith, one-time governor of New York and presidential candidate. A member of his family was asked if he really said all those things and the answer was, "No, but if the public liked the gag he didn't mind claiming it." That is taken out of context and may not be exactly accurate but it is close.

There is always the possibility that something taken out of context may be closer to the truth in the long run than the whole context. Many contexts can stand some refining, you know.

For instance, suppose some of our treasured sayings had come down to us as follows:

Spare the rod and spoil the child and risk lightning.

He who hesitates is lost along with those who didn't.

A penny saved is a penny earned the hard way.

A stitch in time saves nine and causes unemployment.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush except to sportsmen.

A barking dog seldom bites the hand that feeds it.

It is too cold to snow except at the Poles.

An ill wind blows nobody good except the doctor.

Time is money if you get paid for watching the clock.

Be not the first by whom the new is tried nor yet the last to lay the old aside especially if you are a candidate.

Giant oaks from little acorns grow unless they get the ax.

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise and keeps him from the late show.

Haste makes waste which is worse than not making anything.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Odd Facts

Atlantic City, one of the largest seaside resorts in the world, is famous for its boardwalk, which is 60 feet wide and stretches for about seven miles along the ocean front. This walk, made of wood, steel and concrete, is lined with theaters, shops, restaurants and hotels. Convention Hall, on the boardwalk, seats 41,000, making it the largest such hall in the world. This is where the Miss America Pageant takes place every September.

The ruby-throated hummingbird, only 3¾ inches long, can hover over a flower by beating its wings 55 times a second. By beating 75 times a second, it can dart at speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. Its great energy requires nearly continuous feeding. At night the bird becomes almost comatose, so cold and nearly immobile that it cannot fly.

Americans during the past year drove about 741 billion miles. Figuring there are about 68.5 million privately and publicly owned cars, the over-all travel figure works out to about 10,825 miles per auto.

The Chicago 'Boys' Sour On Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

"The Boys" in this turbulent city have long been the real base for Jimmie Hoffa's power in the teamsters' brotherhood.

Victor Riesel

But, no more. They've had him. Their loyalty to him, which made this tough town more his iron bailiwick than his own Detroit, has melted under new heat from the government. With Bob Kennedy out of the government, the pressure is now from the Treasury Department. Those Chicago teamsters who are the truly anonymous power in the sprawling union, believe that as long as Hoffa's free, they'll simply go out of the Justice Department's frying pan into the fire of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

They don't like it. "The Boys" from Chicago are notoriously allergic to the IRS. Recent developments have made them nervous.

A CASE IN POINT is the Treasury Department action against bellicose Joey Glimco's Teamsters Local 777. With this action the Treasury Department is charging, in effect, that Local 777 is not a union and that its funds should be taxed.

If this position of the Treasury Department is backed by the courts, the union would practically be dissolved. The case has been dormant in the dockets for several years.

But now the treasury has swung into action. The case was set for tax trial on Sept. 21, but Glimco, asked for and got a postponement.

Glimco, a close ally of Hoffa's, has been named by witnesses before the Senate racket committee as an intimate friend of leaders of what is traditionally known as the Mafia syndicate.

The Senate committee records describe him as one of the top 10 most active in the syndicate and a close friend of such Mafia chiefs as Tony Accardo and Sam Giancana.

AT ABOUT the same time, the IRS launched new proceedings against Hoffa himself. This is a civil action, not criminal. The civil nature of the action has not diminished "the boys'" intense interest in this new duel between Hoffa and a U.S. agency.

If the Treasury wins this one, it will have set some precedents which the "crowd" would find more disturbing than losing a fleet of Cadillacs.

In its latest action, taken early last month, the IRS seeks to tax Hoffa on money spent in his behalf by the union for 1958-59 legal expenses and considerable travel, hotel, insurance, and living costs.

The government is asking for an additional $52,000 in taxes covering those two years. But that could be only a beginning. The IRS could go back a decade as well as move on the 1960 to 1964 period—the period covering the two trials which ended in sentences totaling 13 years in the federal penitentiary.

ALL THIS has been thoroughly discussed by some teamsters here who simply don't want any more feuds with the federal government. Until recently they were willing to do little against Hoffa since they believe that he is going to jail anyway. They were willing to wait until the cell door clanged. But they've had second thoughts.

Now they want him to resign before his appeals are exhausted. They want a clean sweep of the national offices.

As the Chicago bloc sees it, the Washington headquarters needs leaders who are clean, who have been out of Hoffa's favor and whom the rest of the labor movement would accept — and the government as well.

The one man around whom all forces can rally is the teamsters western leader, Einor Mohn, now based in Los Angeles. He's honest and well respected by the teamsters and the rest of labor. He ran the national office when he was executive vice president just before Hoffa took over.

WITH HIM as president, the executive vice presidency would go to the lanky teamsters "egghead," Harold Gibbons of St. Louis, who has been battling Hoffa now for almost a year. This would leave only the aging national secretary - treasurer, Johnny English, who is nearing 80.

The Chicago crowd wants English to retire so it can take one of the three top posts for one of its own.

This combination would freeze out the redoubtable Johnny O'Rourke of New York. That With Einer Mohn as president, the teamsters' brotherhood would be back in the AFL-CIO almost as soon as the ink dried on Hoffa's resignation.

There is little doubt that Mohn would soon have a seat on the AFL-CIO 20-member executive council, since there are at least six members of that high command who are lame ducks and have no position or even the slightest influence in their own unions.

THUS, EVEN IF Hoffa served only a few years in prison he could not bounce back into power in the teamsters because there would be a united front against him.

The power he concentrated in through the constitution which he himself revised would be in another's hands. The AFL-CIO leadership, which he has reviled and whose chief he has called "stupid," would now be tied closely to the Teamster brotherhood itself.

And the men in the big cities on whom he once counted to make up his personal power base would have been the very force which weakened him.

But he will not starve. He will have his $50,000-a-year pension and the knowledge that an ancient poet was right when he wrote of the inevitable end of the paths of glory.

The Silent Crowd

By David Lawrence

Big Turnouts Don't Necessarily Mean Victory

Judging by the news dispatches on the presidential campaign, it would appear that there is something significant about the outpouring of crowds for one candidate or another in particular sections of the country. Likewise, a great deal of importance is being attached to the fact that certain newspapers in one region are coming out for one candidate while various newspapers in another region are endorsing the other candidate.

David Lawrence

Neither crowds nor the endorsements by the press, however, have always been influential in reflecting the ultimate votes of a community or of a state or even of the nation.

Thus, for example, in 1909 William J. Gaynor was running for election as mayor of New York City. There were several newspapers in the metropolis, but most of them refused to endorse Gaynor. Yet, while he had virtually no newspaper support, he won the election just the same.

What was the reason? It was because the Tammany organization behind him was so well put together and operated so efficiently it didn't make much difference how much commendation was publicly given to his opponents.

MAYBE times have changed since then, but there is a lot of intensive work going on in various cities in the United States today by precinct workers and organizations of various kinds which are paying little attention to the endorsements being given by the press or by prominent individuals on either side.

Nor are crowds necessarily an indication of how public sentiment is lining up. Back in 1920, when this correspondent traveled on the campaign train with James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee, the crowds were noticeable in all parts of the country from coast to coast.

Mr. Cox had been three times governor of Ohio. He was an excellent speaker and he had the endorsement of President Woodrow Wilson, who was finishing his second term.

The Republican nominee, Sen. Warren G. Harding, on the other hand, conducted a "front porch" campaign and never left Marion, Ohio, except for four speeches away from his home town. But Sen. Harding won by a landslide of popular votes—the largest majority which up to that time had been given to any presidential candidate.

What do the crowds that greet a candidate really mean? All the crowds put together that are now turning out to cheer either President Johnson or Sen. Goldwater are an infinitesimal part of the total population of 110 million of voting age.

William Jennings Bryan, three times nominated for the presidency by the Democratic Party and three times defeated for election, drew the biggest crowds that any presidential candidate had assembled before then or since.

He was a remarkable speaker. His eloquence was acknowledged. Curiosity brought out the crowds. When it came to voting for him, however, the people balked. They seemed to feel that economic issues were more vital to them and, especially, that the unfavorable association of the Democratic Party with depression days in the past was more important than the appearance or personality of a candidate.

IT WILL BE recalled that in 1948 Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York made transcontinental trips and was received with ringing applause in many an auditorium.

His speeches were clear-cut. His background and training in the law gave his utterances a logical and fundamentally interesting sound to the people. But, again, Mr. Truman had made a good impression in his three years as president and, though there had been a depression in 1946 immediately after the war, the administration was benefited by an upturn in the economic curve.

Mr. Truman didn't do as much campaigning as Gov. Dewey but he won the election just the same.

So the crowds or the speechmaking have really had no controlling influence in many elections — though there have been times when a candidate who made good speeches was able to win, either with or without drawing crowds on his campaign travels.

Even in the 1960 campaign, there is no doubt that John F. Kennedy was the more spectacular of the two candidates. He drew large crowds. He made a very remarkable impression on television. Yet, in the final showdown, about 118,000 votes out of a total of 69 million made the difference between victory and defeat.

The silent vote is hard to figure, and the Democratic politicians and organizers today are taking nothing for granted. They are working hard irrespective of how big the crowds are or how favorable the public opinion polls happen to be to their candidate.

Steel Executive Due To Address Area Ceramists

Richard A. Holan, manager for organization planning of the U.S. Steel Corp., will address a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Tuesday night at 7 at Stouffer's Restaurant in Pittsburgh's Oakland section.

His topic will be "The Boxmaker's Dilemma," pointing out how effective organization can meet company objectives.

A native of Duquesne, he received a degree in economics in 1952 at Washington and Jefferson College and took postgraduate work at the University of Pittsburgh. He later served as a first lieutenant in the Army Counter - Intelligence Corps.

Holan joined U.S. Steel in 1956, holding several management positions in the Duquesne Works. He was assigned to the Pittsburgh office in 1960 as organization analyst and advanced to his present position last January.

Union's Ballot To Fill Vacant Post Tuesday

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will go to the polls in a special election Tuesday to name a new second vice president to replace William Rail of Huntington Park, Calif., who resigned June 1.

The nominees, picked in a primary election Sept. 15, are:

Bernard Rowbottom of Redlands, Calif., a caster and a member of Local 214. Now 10th vice president, he was designated acting second vice president to operate the IBOP's west coast office after Rail's resignation.

Joseph T. Leadem of Trenton, N. J., a sanitary sprayer and a member of Local 49.

Rowbottom was elected 10th vice president in 1961 after serving as an international representative of the union on the west coast. He has been active in organizing new locals in the west and southwest.

Leadem has served his local at IBOP conventions and wage conferences. He also has served on many committees in his local.

Leadem and Rowbottom won the nominations in a field of 17 in the primaries.

Locals will forward election figures to international headquarters for tabulation by a canvassing committee.

Conservation District To Hear Guest Oct. 22

LISBON — W. E. Wescott, a teacher at Wintersville School, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Soil and Water Conservation District Wednesday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

His topic will be "Presidents and First Ladies." Tickets may be secured from any member of the Board of Supervisors or at the district office in Lisbon. Oct. 17 is the deadline for reservations.

At Annual Banquet

200 4-H Advisors Given Recognition For Service

LISBON — The annual recognition banquet was held Thursday night at Crestview High School and approximately 200 advisers were honored for their services this past year in 4-H Club work.

Mrs. Ralph Huston of Salem had the longest service — 30 years. Others cited and their length of service were:

Mrs. Gladys Huffman of Elkton, 26 years; Mrs. William Brown of Salineville, Clark Hahn of Homeworth, Mrs. George Hawkins and Ralph Huston of Salem, 20; Mrs. Clark Hahn of Homeworth, 17; Mrs. Helen Stanley of Beloit, Don Sanor and William Werner of Salem, 15.

Mrs. Frank Hahn of Minerva, Mrs. Gertrude Pethtel of East Liverpool, Mrs. Kathryn Spillman of New Waterford and I. F. Skeels of Lisbon 14; William Carter of Salineville, Mrs. Harold Milliken of Salem and Charles Gause of Guilford, 13; Mrs. Dorothy Wilms of Leetonia, Mrs. Dorothy Finnicum of Salineville, Harold Milliken of Salem and James Ewing of Lisbon, 12.

Mrs. Roger Stafford of Minerva, Mrs. Raymond Ikert of Leetonia, Mrs. Clarence Crosser and Mrs. Raeanna Colbert of Lisbon 11; Mrs. Gertrude Snyder of Homeworth, Mrs. Marylee Blasiman of Salem, Mrs. Earl Broadbent of East Liverpool, Mrs. Howard Greenfield of Minerva, Mrs. Ed Serafy of Wellsville, Robert Hays of Salineville and Lawrence Wilms of Leetonia 10 years.

Mrs. Milan Jacobs of East Liverpool, Ed Serafy and Mrs. Charles Glass of Wellsville, Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers, Miss Audrey Harrold of Leetonia and Ray Hilliard of Salem, nine.

There were four with eight years, 14 with seven, seven with six, 10 with five, 20 with four, 20 with three, 23 with two and 62 with one year.

The Rev. Davis Babcock of Cortland, guest speaker, said most were 4-H members before they become advisors "and everyone is striving to make the organization better so 4-H members look up to them."

Newly elected 4-H Council representatives include Mrs. Raymond Baker of the Elkton Merry Maids, Sue Serafy, Wellsville Golden Needles, South; Mrs. Verna Cope, Fairfield Sunshine Sisters; Candy Hill, Leetonia Try, Try Again, Northeast, Lester Smith, County Auto Club, and Robert Hippely, Salem 4-H Go Getters, West.

Given special honor were Commissioners Galen Greenisen of Salem, Walter Hunston of East Palestine and James Boyd of East Liverpool. Fair Board members were introduced.

Hippely was toastmaster, Miss Betty Rudebock of Leetonia R. D. 1 gave the invocation and Miss Sandy Hawkins of Salem led group singing. Special music was furnished by girls quartet of the Elkton Merry Maids club.

Steel Executive Due To Address Area Ceramists

Richard A. Holan, manager for organization planning of the U.S. Steel Corp., will address a meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Tuesday night at 7 at Stouffer's Restaurant in Pittsburgh's Oakland section.

His topic will be "The Boxmaker's Dilemma," pointing out how effective organization can meet company objectives.

A native of Duquesne, he received a degree in economics in 1952 at Washington and Jefferson College and took postgraduate work at the University of Pittsburgh. He later served as a first lieutenant in the Army Counter - Intelligence Corps.

Holan joined U.S. Steel in 1956, holding several management positions in the Duquesne Works. He was assigned to the Pittsburgh office in 1960 as organization analyst and advanced to his present position last January.

Union's Ballot To Fill Vacant Post Tuesday

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will go to the polls in a special election Tuesday to name a new second vice president to replace William Rail of Huntington Park, Calif., who resigned June 1.

The nominees, picked in a primary election Sept. 15, are:

Bernard Rowbottom of Redlands, Calif., a caster and a member of Local 214. Now 10th vice president, he was designated acting second vice president to operate the IBOP's west coast office after Rail's resignation.

Joseph T. Leadem of Trenton, N. J., a sanitary sprayer and a member of Local 49.

Rowbottom was elected 10th vice president in 1961 after serving as an international representative of the union on the west coast. He has been active in organizing new locals in the west and southwest.

Leadem has served his local at IBOP conventions and wage conferences. He also has served on many committees in his local.

Leadem and Rowbottom won the nominations in a field of 17 in the primaries.

Locals will forward election figures to international headquarters for tabulation by a canvassing committee.

Workers Halt Elusive Leak In Water Line

After a long quest by both the street department and the water department, an elusive West End leak apparently has been traced and cut off, Water Supt. Donald T. Duke said today.

Although the water came to the surface in White Oak Alley, off W. 8th St., and ran onto the north side of the "super-road" stretch in West End, it was discovered after a long search that the source apparently was in a broken service line on Fairview St. — several hundred yards from the point where the water surfaced.

The water department made an initial investigation and was unable to find any leak in the area where the water was running. The crew took a sample of the water for chemical analysis, which indicated it had not come from a city main.

Then the street department got into the act on the presumption that the water was from a natural source, possibly a wet weather spring.

Both crews made a number of holes in the streets and alleys in a quest for the source of the water.

Finally it apparently was located and clamped off Thursday. Duke said the source appears to be a broken service line nine feet underground on Fairview St. near the junction of the alley.

After pouring out of the service line, the water apparently followed the underground course of the main downgrade for some distance before it finally surfaced.

What about the deceptive chemical analysis? In its underground course, the city water evidently had picked up various foreign elements that changed its character, Duke explained.

Such deceptive leaks are uncommon in municipalities in level country, but they're comparatively common in East Liverpool's hilly terrain, the superintendent said.

Pughtown Boy Receives Scholarship In 4-H Work

Presentation of a camp scholarship to a Pughtown boy whose entomology projects have won two blue ribbons highlighted the annual banquet of the Hancock County Conservation Committee Thursday night at the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown.

Fred Miller, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Miller of Pughtown, was presented the conservation certificate and scholarship to County Youth Conservation Camp by Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

The youngster has been active in 4-H work for four years and all his projects have won blue ribbons, including his studies on insects for two years. He is a member of the Polaris 4-H Club of Pughtown and Miss Katherine Minesinger is leader.

The "Conservation Farmer of the Year," Carl Allison of Pughtown, was unable to attend.

The nominating committee's report was accepted and all officers were re-elected to new one-year terms. They are James Arehart of Pughtown, chairman; Chester Ralston of near Weirton, vice chairman; Lynn Troop of Arroyo, secretary; Gust Brenda Jr. of Weirton, treasurer, and L. P. Lutton of Chester, Clarence Deeds of Newell and Johnson, members of the Board of Directors.

Brenda was toastmaster. Speaker was H. P. Berthy, state specialist in wood utilization, who stressed the need for broader woodworking industry and screened slides on woodmaking in West Virginia. He commented 75 per cent of the state is covered with trees.

The Rev. Jerry L. Deitch of the First Christian Church of Pughtown gave the invocation. Dinner was served 50 by women of the Grange.

Local In Canada, Pottery Approve New 2-Year Pact

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today its Local 303 has signed a new two - year working agreement with the Canadian Potteries Division of Crane Canada, Ltd., at New Westminster, B. C.

The contract provides for a 23-cent hourly raise for all hourly - rated workers, a 10-cent boost for incentive - rated employes and a 5-cent boost for electricians over and above the general 23-cent raise.

The new agreement also calls for a $10-a-week increase in welfare and pension plans.

The pension plan calls for a minimum of $50 a month. It also provides for disability pensions and early retirement for persons who quit at 60 after 15 years' service.

Bernard Rowbottom of Huntington Park, Calif., acting second vice president, assisted the negotiating committee of the local, the union said.

City Youth Arrested As Pilfering Suspect

A 17-year-old Ravine St. boy arrested by Chester Police Chief Harold Davis Thursday afternoon as a suspect in several home pilferings was being held today in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland for investigation.

Chief Davis took the boy into custody Thursday at 4:10 on Carolina Ave. as a suspect in unlawful enterings of several Chester homes.

An Akron parole officer was due to arrive today to investigate. Chief Davis said the boy is on parole from an Ohio juvenile institution.

Heaviest football player at Syracuse is lineman Steve Chomyszak, 260 pounds, from Johnson City, N.Y. Lightest is quarterback Ted Holman, 163, from Newport News, Va.

Carroll V. Hill Due To Speak For Chamber

Carroll V. Hill, head of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Columbus and Pittsburgh — the firm preparing a "master plan" for East Liverpool — will speak at the annual fall membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the Country Club.

Hill's address on "Planning for East Liverpool's Future" will follow a 6:30 p. m. buffet dinner.

The Chamber mailed tickets today to its members for the affair and asked that reservations be made by Saturday, Oct. 24.

Reservation requests may be made by telephoning the Chamber at FU 5-0845 or by mail to Post Office Box 94.

The Chamber also notified its members that some proposed changes in the constitution and bylaws will be presented for a vote at the fall meeting.

Other details of the program will be announced later.

Hill's staff already has started work on the "master plan," working under contract with the city. The concern was selected by the City Planning Commission after a long investigation. Part of the cost will be covered with federal and state aid.

Dinner arrangements are in charge of the Chamber's banquet and meetings committee, comprised of John M. Pinney, chairman, Frank A. Dawson, Eugene Hall, Ralph A. Finley, Robert Miller and James H. Riggs.

Coffee Hour Promotes Beaver Local Levies

The proposed Beaver Local School District levies in the Nov. 3 election were discussed by Mrs. Art Doak at a coffee hour meeting held Thursday with Mrs. M. J. Gerace of Park Way Ext.

Promotion posters and sample ballots were distributed. It was announced a general meeting of ABLE will be held at the Public School Oct. 19.

Ashtabulan's Speaker

Panel On County's Needs Held By Planning Group

A general discussion on Columbiana County's needs and the means of fulfilling them was held at a general public meeting of the Regional Planning Commission Thursday night at the Lisbon Village Hall.

On a panel heading the discussion were Eber Wright, Ashtabula County planning director and adviser to the county unit, and Dawson Irey, Richard Mattern and Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian.

Among the needs listed were additional industry for a better economic base, improved highways, a county airport, better co-operation between local governments and subdivisions and enlarged recreation facilities.

Wright said Ashtabula County had, with the financial assistance of public utilities, undertaken an economic study which pinpointed special benefits for new industry with the result that industry was drawn to the county.

Stockdale said the fundamental problem is to determine 'what is wrong" then seek a solution. It was mentioned that the planning surveys underway in East Liverpool and by the county commission would reveal "what is wrong" so that proper action could follow.

Floyd Lower, president, pointed out a new revision of federal law now provides that subdivisions with a population of over 50,000 can now benefit on aid for planning surveys, and would apply to Columbiana County.

Lower said a speaker from the Ohio Economic Development Commission will be sought for the next general meeting of the commission to explain the new law so that application for aid may be made.

Discussion was held on the proposed relocation of Route 62 into Mahoning County. A resolution was adopted favoring relocation of the highway in Columbiana County.

It was pointed out that the regional group is not sufficiently organized and lacks the proper information to make an official recommendation.

During an Executive Board session prior to the meeting, H. F. Maturen was tentatively retained at a starting wage of $2.50 to obtain needed data from Courthouse records for the commission.

Discussion was held on purchasing a mimeograph machine, but action was delayed for further bids and study.

Lower reported the commission has spent $3,500 of its $4,000 budget for the year.

Warrant Served On Motorist For Hit-Skip Charges

Police served a warrant late Thursday afternoon on Ruth Shreve, 679 Lincoln Ave., accused of leaving the scene of an accident on St. Clair Ave. Wednesday in which a parked car was damaged slightly.

The defendant is due for a hearing Tuesday at 9 a.m. on a charge signed by Goldie Keener, 732 St. Clair Ave., alleging that she failed to halt after her car bumped the Keener auto, scraping the left rear bumper.

The defendant was released pending the hearing. The warrant was served at 4:04 p.m. by Patrolmen Paul Blevins and Karl Samples, police said.

The complaining witness, in an accident report filed with police, said her 1959 sedan was bumped while parked in St. Clair near Burton Alley. Witnesses said the other auto did not halt, she told police.

Teacher Gives Up Fairfield School Post

MIDDLETON — The resignation of Mrs. Lucille Snyder, third grade teacher at Fairfield School, was accepted by the Fairfield - Waterford School District Board of Education Thursday night at Crestview High School.

Applications are being received for the post, Joseph Driscoll said.

The board authorized participation in a tax shelter annuity plan for school employes through the New York Life Insurance Co. Six employes have signed so far.

Purchase of an IBM typewriter, with provision for teaching IBM card punch method, was approved at a cost of $328 from the Youngstown IBM office.

The board also approved application for purchase of three encyclopedia sets through the Title III program.

The board will meet Nov. 19, instead of the regular second Thursday, because Driscoll and some members will attend meetings of the Ohio School Boards Association and Ohio School Administrators at Columbus Nov. 10-12.

The board will confer Tuesday night with a Citizens Committee to discuss promotion of a proposed $350,000 bond issue for school improvement and a 4-mill levy on the Nov. 3 ballot. The levy is a 3.6-mill renewal and a new four-tenths of a mill levy.

A meeting of the board and teachers of kindergarten through third grade classes is slated Oct. 22 to acquaint members with the curriculum and teachers' needs.

The Music Boosters will meet Monday night at the high school. Open house will be held by the Parent - Teacher Organization Oct. 19 at the Fairfield School. The Athletic Boosters will meet Oct. 20 at the high school.

Dalrymple Clarifies Statement On Hays

Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville, Republican candidate for 18th District congressman, said today the report of his statement at a GOP rally Wednesday night on Rep. Wayne L. Hays' vote on tariffs was incorrect.

The incumbent congressman did vote favorably for higher tariffs, but prior to the vote on the floor of the House he had not been active enough to materially affect the outcome, Dalrymple explained.

686 Farmers Signed In County Wheat Plan

LISBON — A total of 686 farmers have signed up for the voluntary wheat program for 1965, according to Clifford Shaw, office manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation service.

The total is up 276 from last year, when 410 filed.

The signup closed Oct. 2, but all mail postmarked before the deadline was processed, Shaw said.

TAKING THE OATH as East Liverpool's newest police lieutenant, Kenneth H. Mooney was sworn into office Thursday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Behind the officer is his wife. Others, from left, are Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Chief A. J. Radeschi. Mooney, a patrolman since 1958, was promoted to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Lt. Clyde W. Boso.

Band's New Director Meets Booster Group At Midland

Approximately 57 attended a meeting of the Midland Band Boosters Club Wednesday night at the music forum of the high school when Robert Fleming, new director, was formally introduced to the parents.

Fleming, a former resident of the Pittsburgh area, spoke briefly and said that a group such as the Band Boosters is new to him and that he feels that it is a worthy organization that helps the band.

The director reported that the recent car wash, conducted by the boys of the band, realized $45. He also displayed toothbrushes and members decided to sell them as a fund - raising project.

Supt. Edgar Richards also spoke and commended Fleming. He said the best bands are those supported by strong groups such as the Band Boosters. Besides his keen interest in the academic program of the schools, Richards said he also has a great interest in the high school band, the elementary program of music and the athletic program. Supt. Richards is a former musician.

Mrs. Frank Pedro, president, presided for business, and Mrs. John Waddingham, corresponding secretary, submitted her resignation.

Mrs. Nicholas Gruber, chairman, reported membership of 277.

The first reading of the revised bylaws was given by Mrs. Charles Castelli, secretary, who also gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Frank Lavrusky reported $117 was realized in a recent rummage sale and Mrs. Matt Hapach and Mrs. Joseph Prodonovich were named by Mrs. Pedro to head another project to be completed in December.

Tag days were set for Oct. 26-27 and proceeds will be used to buy uniforms for majorettes.

A "get-acquainted" tea honoring the band director followed. Mrs. Sam Mamula chairman, was assisted by board members. The centerpiece was a fall arrangement with white tapers.

The next meeting will be Nov. 4.

22 At Women's Association Meeting At Clarkson Church

Twenty-two attended a meeting of the Women's Association of the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night at the annex.

The group authorized a 5 per cent increase in the Gold Sheet pledge. Plans were discussed for a Thank-Offering collection Nov. 8.

A movie on missions was screened by Mrs. Morna Ruth Moore, wife of the pastor, who also led devotions.

Mrs. Otis Gibson, president, was in charge. The Fellowship of the Least Coin was observed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Blanch Williams and Mrs. Harry Thompson, assisted by Mrs. Dorothea Smith. Out - of - town visitors included Mrs. Ethel Souder of Lisbon, and Mrs. Ruth Daiger, Mrs. Eva Swaney and Mrs. Grace Scott of Salem.

The next meeting will be Nov. 2, instead of Nov. 3 because of the election. Mrs. Marie George and Mrs. Edith Thompson will be hostesses.

Albert Hole, Clarence Hole and Kenneth Hole and their mother, Mrs. Mildred Hole, returned this week from a trip to Fort Myers, Fla.

Lisbon District Youth Cited For Auto Crash

Gene Phillip Schnader, 19, of Lisbon R.D. 5 was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Thursday after his car and another collided on Route 62 about three miles west of Salem.

A car operated by John Gough, 24, of Salem was passing Schnader late yesterday afternoon when Schnader pulled out to pass a vehicle ahead of him.

No one was injured, according to officers, who cited Schnader for changing lanes without due caution.

Crucible Plant Roof Damaged By Flames

Fire caused minor damage this morning to the roof of the No. 5 and No. 9 annealing and pickling building at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

A spark apparently started the fire, which was brought under control by the plant fire brigade and Midland volunteer firemen, who received the alarm at 8:44 a.m.

Trial Pending For Area Man In Gun Case

Trial date is pending in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court for Clifford VanTilburg, 36, of 3rd St., Wellsville, indicted by the Jefferson County Grand Jury on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

VanTilburg pleaded innocent when arraigned Thursday and the court assigned Atty. Joseph Bruzzese as his counsel, while bond was set at $300.

Judge Arthur L. Hooper is to set trial dates for 23 of the 24 indicted defendants who filed pleas of innocent.

VanTilburg was arrested Sept. 4 on Sugar Grove Rd. outside of Toronto by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol while allegedly wearing a mask over his face and carrying a pistol.

Also indicted was Thomas Lee Grindle, 33, of 914 Market St., Toronto, on a charge of robbery.

The Grand Jury returned an indictment against former Weirton attorney Morton H. Rosenshine, 47, on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and embezzlement of Jefferson County residents. However, Rosenshine is serving two concurrent 1-10 year terms in Moundsville Penitentiary. He was sentenced in Hancock County Court.

County Shows 8 New Tuberculosis Patients

LISBON — Eight new cases of tuberculosis were reported to the State Health Department in September, according to the report of the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Clinic at the Courthouse.

Dr. F. G. Kravec of Youngstown, director, reported the clinic took 126 X-rays, had one reactivated case, gave 138 Mantoux tests at the clinic and 3,042 Heaf tests in schools and started six patients on medication. The nurses made 108 visits during the month.

During September, four new patients were admitted to TB hospitals and four were discharged. There were 12 patients in hospitals, of which seven were treated at county expense, for a total of 182 hospital days.

A total of 147 patients are receiving home medication furnished through the clinic, Dr. Kravec said.

Drivers Cited On 2 Charges After Mishap

Two East Liverpool drivers were cited after a Dresden Ave. crash Thursday night that damaged their cars and two parked autos, police reported.

The collision 600 feet north of Moore St. at 9:18 involved a southbound 1953 sedan driven by George O. Hanlon, 49, of Post Office Box 224 and a northbound 1964 sedan operated by Valmond Rice, 59, of 1937 Dresden Ave., officers said.

Hanlon's auto continued, hitting a parked 1958 sedan owned by Hipsley Motors of Walnut St. and a parked 1959 sedan owned by Hugh Thorne, 931 Dresden Ave., officers reported.

Rice was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and Hanlon was accused of improper auto registration police said.

Their Municipal Court hearings are set tentatively for Tuesday morning.

Both motorists accused the other of crossing the center line, officers said. Hanlon complained of a pain in his side, but refused to go to City Hospital, officers added.

Hanlon told officers he was headed south about 10 to 15 miles an hour. Rice's auto was on the wrong side of the center line and hit the Hanlon car, he said. Rice, headed north at 15 miles an hour, said Hanlon hit his auto.

Patrolmen Karl Samples and Paul Blevins investigated. There was extensive damage to the left side of Hanlon's car and the left front of the Rice auto, they said. The mishap also damaged the left headlight of the Hipsley auto and the left rear quarter panel and chrome strip on the Thorne auto, they said.

Meanwhile, Raymond E. Rudibaugh of Boring Ln. told police Thursday at 11:30 a.m. the right headlight and bumper of his 1962 model four - door sedan were damaged by a hit-skip vehicle while it was parked on E. 6th St.

Where Fund Dollars Go

Mrs. Pat Hawkingberry, left, is a member of the Salvation Army's Mothers Club, one of the some 30 activities held weekly at the E. 4th St. Citadel of the Army which is aided by the United Fund. She is shown with Mrs. Thelma Hildebrand, Home League secretary.

Mrs. Hawkingberry walks four miles from her home south of Newell to attend the weekly meetings of the club and walks back again, missing only three times since she began attending in January 1960.

In winter and summer, she has also brought three of her daughters who have also joined, and since last January, she has brought her infant son, Tommy.

There are 104 members of the club which has a fourfold purpose of religion, education, fellowship and service. Besides holding worship and classes on homemaking the women also help process Christmas letters for the Army, pack Sunshine Kits for invalids, make items for Veterans Hospitals and in other service.

The Army, which moved into the new Citadel, the former American Legion Post 4 home, in 1963, has an allotment of $11,500 from the United Fund.

It has sponsored a wide variety of service and help projects throughout the community over the years.

In 1963, it provided material welfare aid for 647 families, found jobs for 12 persons, gave aid to 394 homeless men or women, and assisted 159 families at Christmastime.

The local unit, headed by Major and Mrs. William Hathorn, also held hundreds of evangelistic and youth meetings, sent 45 to camp, visited various institutions and individuals, and distributed publications.

The Army has been a helping hand for many in this area, and remains a vital part of the community religious and service program.

Support of The United Fund insures the continued activities of the Army through next year.

Schools' Vote Charges Due To Hit $5,594

The East Liverpool School District will pay $5,594.72 for a special election held Sept. 15 in which a $4.3 million building program was approved, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said today.

O'Hanlon explained the board has certified the expense to County Auditor Kenneth Bell at Lisbon to be withheld from the school district's next tax settlement.

The charges include: Pay of precinct judges and clerks, $4,386; rental of polling places, along with heat and light, $419.30; placing and removing ballot boxes and other precinct furnitures and fixtures, $486.

Printing, $194.30; legal advertising, $23.12, and other expenses, $86. In addition, the county paid $666.50 for poll books, which are considered a permanent record and cannot be charged back to the subdivision as part of the election expense.

The charge against the school district represents the cost of the election, less the price of the poll books, in the 43 precincts in the city and Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

O'Hanlon explained the Election Board already has paid all the expenses out of the funds allocated to it for 1964 operations. Reimbursement for the expenditures will not be received until the charges are deducted from the school district's next tax settlement.

9 Motorists Draw Penalty

Nine area motorists were penalized on traffic charges by County Court Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

John Robert Schwartz of Lisbon St. was fined $20 and costs for lack of a driver's license.

Donald M. Scott of East Liverpool R.D. 2 was fined $15 and costs for lack of a highway use tax stamp.

John Wilson of R.D. 3 was fined $25 and Larry William Graham of Rogers R.D. 1 $20 and costs for speeding.

William Albert Shultz of Rogers was fined $5 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

Leonard L. Townley of 401 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, was fined $15 and Ronald E. Randolph of Lisbon R.D. 2, $25 and costs, both for speeding. The latter's license was suspended for 90 days.

John J. Romey, 1339 N. 4th St., Toronto, was fined $15 and costs for speeding.

James A. Fuccy of New Cumberland was fined $57 and costs for an overloaded truck.

Job Resumes On New Main

Water department crews resumed work Thursday on a project that calls for installation of a new 8-inch main extending from St. Clair Ave. along Grant St. to W. 9th St., Supt. Donald T. Duke said today.

The first phase of the job was completed in mid-summer — extending the main from St. Clair Ave. to St. John St. In the second phase, which began yesterday, the line will be laid from St. John St. to Dresden Ave. About 100 feet of pipe was laid yesterday.

In the third phase, the line will be laid diagonally across Dresden Ave. from Grant St. to tie in with an 8-inch main on W. 9th St.

Duke said the second phase of the job may be slowed by a maze of underground pipes which the crews encountered. There are sanitary sewers, storm sewers, gas lines and service lines of various utilities in the area which the new main is to be installed, he explained.

The new main is designed to boost service and pressure in the West End - Sunnyside area. Householders and firemen have complained for years of lack of adequate pressure in the essentially residential district.

Knew It'd Happen

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — By error, a blank salary check was delivered to Glen Sarsfield, chief of administration for the Iowa Conservation Commission. Said Sarsfield: "Just as I thought. My deductions finally have caught up with my salary."

Miller Swings His Vote Drive Into Midwest

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller swung his GOP vice presidential campaign back into the Midwest today, on a new mission for Sen. Barry Goldwater — an effort to stem any trend toward defeatism in Republican ranks.

Miller's campaign oratory during appearances in Missouri and Tennessee Thursday reflected GOP concern over the effect of President Johnson's claim that he is en route to a record-smashing victory.

Miller entered a counterclaim — that Johnson's campaign has passed its peak and is on the downgrade, while Republican fortunes are on the rise.

In Nashville, Miller declared: "I have news for Lyndon Johnson and for any Democrats or Republicans who might be influenced by his claim to think that we do not have a chance.

"This is not a plebiscite we will hold strictly for Lyndon's benefit. There are millions of Americans who won't carry a rubber stamp into the polls."

He added: "To our Republican friends across the land, I say — don't pay the least attention to Lyndon's battle claims. He knows he is slipping or he wouldn't be out working so hard to climb back up the hill."

Miller, a New York congressman, flew to Quincy Thursday night and today starts a campaign swing through Illinois, with a side trip into Indiana.

For Private Eye

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP) — The sergeant wasn't kidding when he walked into the barracks and yelled: "Is there a Private Eye here?" He was looking for Private James Eye, a recruit from Louisville.

Sedan Damaged As Truck Backs

A 1963 sedan was damaged but the driver escaped unhurt when it was bumped by a backing transit mix cement truck Thursday at 11:55 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. 40 feet south of Fisher Ave., police said.

The mishap involved an auto owned by the Smith & Phillips Co. of Washington St. and operated by Ralph A. Finley, 41, of Pond St. and a 1957 model truck owned by the Milliron Co. of E. 2nd St. and driven by George A. O'Hanlon, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 2.

The collision damaged the right fender, hood and grill of the auto and broke a tail light on the truck, officers said. O'Hanlon said he did not see any traffic approaching as he backed to turn into a driveway. Finley reported he was northbound when he saw the backing truck. He said he blew his horn and pulled to the left in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Two East Liverpool drivers were cited after a Dresden Ave. crash Thursday night that damaged their cars and two parked autos, police reported.

The collision 600 feet north of Moore St. at 9:18 involved a southbound 1953 sedan driven by George O. Hanlon, 49, of Post Office Box 224 and a northbound 1964 sedan operated by Valmond Rice, 59, of 1937 Dresden Ave., officers said.

Hanlon's auto continued, hitting a parked 1958 sedan owned by Hipsley Motors of Walnut St. and a parked 1959 sedan owned by Hugh Thorne, 931 Dresden Ave., officers reported.

Rice was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and Hanlon was accused of improper auto registration police said.

Their Municipal Court hearings are set tentatively for Tuesday morning.

Both motorists accused the other of crossing the center line, officers said. Hanlon complained of a pain in his side, but refused to go to City Hospital, officers added.

Hanlon told officers he was headed south about 10 to 15 miles an hour. Rice's auto was on the wrong side of the center line and hit the Hanlon car, he said. Rice, headed north at 15 miles an hour, said Hanlon hit his auto.

Patrolmen Karl Samples and Paul Blevins investigated. There was extensive damage to the left side of Hanlon's car and the left front of the Rice auto, they said. The mishap also damaged the left headlight of the Hipsley auto and the left rear quarter panel and chrome strip on the Thorne auto, they said.

Meanwhile, Raymond E. Rudibaugh of Boring Ln. told police Thursday at 11:30 a.m. the right headlight and bumper of his 1962 model four - door sedan were damaged by a hit-skip vehicle while it was parked on E. 6th St.

Where Fund Dollars Go

Mrs. Pat Hawkingberry, left, is a member of the Salvation Army's Mothers Club, one of the some 30 activities held weekly at the E. 4th St. Citadel of the Army which is aided by the United Fund. She is shown with Mrs. Thelma Hildebrand, Home League secretary.

Mrs. Hawkingberry walks four miles from her home south of Newell to attend the weekly meetings of the club and walks back again, missing only three times since she began attending in January 1960.

In winter and summer, she has also brought three of her daughters who have also joined, and since last January, she has brought her infant son, Tommy.

There are 104 members of the club which has a fourfold purpose of religion, education, fellowship and service. Besides holding worship and classes on homemaking the women also help process Christmas letters for the Army, pack Sunshine Kits for invalids, make items for Veterans Hospitals and in other service.

The Army, which moved into the new Citadel, the former American Legion Post 4 home, in 1963, has an allotment of $11,500 from the United Fund.

It has sponsored a wide variety of service and help projects throughout the community over the years.

In 1963, it provided material welfare aid for 647 families, found jobs for 12 persons, gave aid to 394 homeless men or women, and assisted 159 families at Christmastime.

The local unit, headed by Major and Mrs. William Hathorn, also held hundreds of evangelistic and youth meetings, sent 45 to camp, visited various institutions and individuals, and distributed publications.

The Army has been a helping hand for many in this area, and remains a vital part of the community religious and service program.

Support of The United Fund insures the continued activities of the Army through next year.

Schools' Vote Charges Due To Hit $5,594

The East Liverpool School District will pay $5,594.72 for a special election held Sept. 15 in which a $4.3 million building program was approved, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said today.

O'Hanlon explained the board has certified the expense to County Auditor Kenneth Bell at Lisbon to be withheld from the school district's next tax settlement.

The charges include: Pay of precinct judges and clerks, $4,386; rental of polling places, along with heat and light, $419.30; placing and removing ballot boxes and other precinct furnitures and fixtures, $486.

Printing, $194.30; legal advertising, $23.12, and other expenses, $86. In addition, the county paid $666.50 for poll books, which are considered a permanent record and cannot be charged back to the subdivision as part of the election expense.

The charge against the school district represents the cost of the election, less the price of the poll books, in the 43 precincts in the city and Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

O'Hanlon explained the Election Board already has paid all the expenses out of the funds allocated to it for 1964 operations. Reimbursement for the expenditures will not be received until the charges are deducted from the school district's next tax settlement.

9 Motorists Draw Penalty

Nine area motorists were penalized on traffic charges by County Court Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

John Robert Schwartz of Lisbon St. was fined $20 and costs for lack of a driver's license.

Donald M. Scott of East Liverpool R.D. 2 was fined $15 and costs for lack of a highway use tax stamp.

John Wilson of R.D. 3 was fined $25 and Larry William Graham of Rogers R.D. 1 $20 and costs for speeding.

William Albert Shultz of Rogers was fined $5 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

Leonard L. Townley of 401 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, was fined $15 and Ronald E. Randolph of Lisbon R.D. 2, $25 and costs, both for speeding. The latter's license was suspended for 90 days.

John J. Romey, 1339 N. 4th St., Toronto, was fined $15 and costs for speeding.

James A. Fuccy of New Cumberland was fined $57 and costs for an overloaded truck.

Job Resumes On New Main

Water department crews resumed work Thursday on a project that calls for installation of a new 8-inch main extending from St. Clair Ave. along Grant St. to W. 9th St., Supt. Donald T. Duke said today.

The first phase of the job was completed in mid-summer — extending the main from St. Clair Ave. to St. John St. In the second phase, which began yesterday, the line will be laid from St. John St. to Dresden Ave. About 100 feet of pipe was laid yesterday.

In the third phase, the line will be laid diagonally across Dresden Ave. from Grant St. to tie in with an 8-inch main on W. 9th St.

Duke said the second phase of the job may be slowed by a maze of underground pipes which the crews encountered. There are sanitary sewers, storm sewers, gas lines and service lines of various utilities in the area which the new main is to be installed, he explained.

The new main is designed to boost service and pressure in the West End - Sunnyside area. Householders and firemen have complained for years of lack of adequate pressure in the essentially residential district.

Miller Swings His Vote Drive Into Midwest

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller swung his GOP vice presidential campaign back into the Midwest today, on a new mission for Sen. Barry Goldwater — an effort to stem any trend toward defeatism in Republican ranks.

Miller's campaign oratory during appearances in Missouri and Tennessee Thursday reflected GOP concern over the effect of President Johnson's claim that he is en route to a record-smashing victory.

Miller entered a counterclaim — that Johnson's campaign has passed its peak and is on the downgrade, while Republican fortunes are on the rise.

In Nashville, Miller declared: "I have news for Lyndon Johnson and for any Democrats or Republicans who might be influenced by his claim to think that we do not have a chance.

"This is not a plebiscite we will hold strictly for Lyndon's benefit. There are millions of Americans who won't carry a rubber stamp into the polls."

He added: "To our Republican friends across the land, I say — don't pay the least attention to Lyndon's battle claims. He knows he is slipping or he wouldn't be out working so hard to climb back up the hill."

Miller, a New York congressman, flew to Quincy Thursday night and today starts a campaign swing through Illinois, with a side trip into Indiana.

Glenmoor's Firemen Plans Public Dance

A public series of benefit round and square dances will be held every Saturday from 9 to midnight at the Glenmoor fire station, with the first set tomorrow night, it was announced Thursday night at a meeting of the volunteers.

Practice was held on the Civil Defense pumper at the station, which is on standby duty during repairs on Pumper No. 3. Chief Kenneth Mills was in charge. Twenty attended. It was announced at least nine members of the department will attend Columbiana County fire school sessions Oct. 18 and 25 at Leetonia.

The firemen will meet again Thursday at 7 p.m. and the fire department association will convene at 8. George Hamilton heads the association.

Sedan Damaged As Truck Backs

A 1963 sedan was damaged but the driver escaped unhurt when it was bumped by a backing transit mix cement truck Thursday at 11:55 a.m. on St. Clair Ave. 40 feet south of Fisher Ave., police said.

The mishap involved an auto owned by the Smith & Phillips Co. of Washington St. and operated by Ralph A. Finley, 41, of Pond St. and a 1957 model truck owned by the Milliron Co. of E. 2nd St. and driven by George A. O'Hanlon, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 2.

The collision damaged the right fender, hood and grill of the auto and broke a tail light on the truck, officers said. O'Hanlon said he did not see any traffic approaching as he backed to turn into a driveway. Finley reported he was northbound when he saw the backing truck. He said he blew his horn and pulled to the left in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Bungle, Not Burgle

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A receptionist at a Louisville bank got off on the wrong foot. In midmorning of her first day, she accidentally stepped on the burglar alarm button, bringing police squads to the bank. Before the day was over, she accidentally tripped the alarm again.

Salem Senior Citizens To Visit Local Group

Seventy - five Salem Senior Citizens will be guests of the local group Thursday afternoon. The place will be announced.

The group met Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and Don Eckert, guest speaker, discussed the City Planning Commission. Jack Barrett, vice president, presided.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale Nov. 2-7 at the Halpate Building in East End. Group singing was enjoyed and the chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Annie Carr, sang several selections. Lunch was served to 109.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

'Peyton Place' May Be TV's Waterloo

The minute ABC's twice-weekly "Peyton Place" series became a hit with the viewing public (at least the ratings indicate such is the case), the beleaguered critics of TV were again in trouble.

Hal Humphrey

Smug industry executives are giving us their best we-told - you - so looks and claiming that the success of this nighttime soap opera is more proof of the viewers' thirst for bilge water.

-:-

IF "PEYTON PLACE" continues to gain in the audience ratings, the networks will immerse themselves in more of this sort of thing next season.

What the program nabobs are overlooking is the fact that their current weekly schedules offer viewers so little variety that "Peyton Place" becomes a sanctuary by comparison.

Of 95 prime-time programs on the three networks now, 41, or nearly half, are comedy shows. When the viewer becomes sated with laughs, both mechanical and real, his remaining choice is confined largely to adventure-type sagas with Western backgrounds or never-never lands as depicted in "Outer Limits," "Man from U.N.C.L.E.," etc.

EXCEPT FOR "Mr. Novak," "Defenders," "Combat" and perhaps "Slattery's People" and "Dr. Kildare," the viewer of TV today is hard put to find real people in real situations—unless, of course, one counts a sprinkling of documentaries and some of the old movies.

The people in "Peyton Place" have a certain look of reality about them, despite a Freudian obsession with their sex life, which in itself is an element usually ignored completely in TV comedies and Westerns, so it also is welcomed by the parched viewer.

One reason a batch of old movies rerun on TV frequently will outpull shows created for TV is this same yen of the viewer for something besides comedy and hokey adventure.

AFTER WORLD WAR II the movie theaters lost much of their audience and frantically sent surveyors into the field to find out why. It was too early to blame it on TV.

One of the things shown in the surveys was the fact that after reaching age 30 the average moviegoer's visits to his neighborhood movie dropped off perceptibly.

It took critic Gilbert Seldes to interpret what was happening. He pointed out to the movie producers that after 30 most Americans have matured to a point where they no longer could appreciate or relate to the insipid fare being shown in the movie houses then.

The big movie studios didn't believe Seldes until they first tried bigger screens, three dimension cameras and stereophonic sound. Better pictures finally revived the industry, but there were fewer theaters to show them in by then.

A SIMILAR attrition some day will catch up with the TV networks, but it takes longer because the inadequate rating services do not reflect a drop-off in viewers as quickly as a theater's box office.

Also, disinterested viewers stay longer with mediocre TV than they will with mediocre movies in theaters, since the former is easily available and supposedly free.

Nevertheless, the current TV season could turn out to be catastrophic for both networks and advertisers, should "Peyton Place" be the only new series to maintain a high rating in the weeks to come.

By networks' misinterpreting such a turn of events to mean that viewers crave nighttime soap opera in twice and three times weekly dosages, we could wind up next season with mostly old movies and "Son of Peyton Place" or "Return to Peyton Place."

From there it would be only a short time before we came full circle to wrestling and Dagmar.

Bringing Up Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Can Cultivate 'Concentration'

Some children or adults may concentrate at times so strongly on what they are thinking or doing that you may have difficulty in diverting their attention from it. They may not even hear you when you speak to them. If you are a teacher you may know the child who doesn't for long periods at a stretch, hear what you or his classmates are saying, even while looking straight at you. Yet he may be concentrating on something else wholly unrelated to what is said in his hearing — daydreaming.

Dr. Garry Myers

What he is so absorbed in may be very interesting, even sometimes useful, to him, but his mind may not be centered on what he is supposed to be attending to.

As a parent, you may have to speak several times to your child before he responds or even hears you as he is absorbed in a comic strip, a TV program, or some other matter. He may be concentrating strongly, but not on what you wish him to be concentrating on at the moment.

YOU AND I may sometimes daydream while at church or a lecture or symphony, or in a committee meeting, or while reading a book with a purpose, or just reading. So when we say a child does not concentrate, we usually mean he is not strongly attentive for a sustained period on what we expect him to be attentive to.

When, for example, you are helping your youngster with his lessons, you are annoyed when he does not pay strong and constant attention to the specific item he is supposed to be learning. If he is in your classroom at school you say he doesn't concentrate on the specific items being taught. Of course, children, like adults, vary widely in their degree of concentration as in the foregoing situations.

When a parent writes me about the child who does not concentrate, she writes about the child who doesn't seem to keep his mind long on what she is teaching him at any moment. More often she writes that her child's teacher says "he doesn't pay attention" at school. Sometimes the parent reports that the teacher complains to her about this child's inattention at school, implying that this parent should do something about the matter.

SOMETIMES the teacher expects the parent to command this child to pay better attention at school. This parent may suppose she not only should so command this child but also punish him if he does not obey this command. Yet how absurd and impossible to get good results in this direction.

Often the child so complained about does not follow directions of the teacher or do the written work the other children are doing, or does not continue this work unless the teacher stands right over him, or does something else then or just sits and daydreams.

This youngster may be jumpy and jittery, he may never have learned to cooperate reasonably well in any group or follow directions. He may lag seriously in one or more subjects. When he is not enjoying success at learning, how can we expect him to be interested and attentive?

So anything you can do at home to help your child win more success at reading, arithmetic or spelling, the more attentive at school he will grow in these supbects. Also the better practice he has at conforming to family routines, at carrying out requests or commands, at doing well and promptly a few regular chores, the better prepared he should be at being attentive at school.

ONE SPECIFIC thing any parent may do to cultivate concentration in the child at school is to read aloud to him from the time he is two or younger and continue to do so long after he enters school.

My bulletins, "Why Read to the Baby and Young Child" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" may be secured by sending a stamped, self - addressed envelope to me in care of The Review.

CHICAGO (AP) — Surgeons from Ohio were among the 1,125 inducted Thursday night as new fellows of the American College of Surgeons.

The cap-and-gown ceremony was part of the annual five-day Clinical Congress of the world's largest organization of surgeons.

Fellowship is awarded to surgeons who fulfill comprehensive requirements of acceptable medical education and advanced training as specialists in some branch of surgery and who give evidence of good moral character and ethical practice.

The Ohio group inducted included:

William R. Bush, Canton, Ward V. B. Young Jr., Elyria; Hossein Golji, Gallipolis; Eugene A. Mueller, Salem; John A. Grima, Warren and Robert G. Sheperd, West Unity.

4 Young Drivers Get Suspensions In Lisbon Court

LISBON — The operator's permits of four young motorists were suspended in Traffic Court hearings this week at the Courthouse. Another was fined.

The defendants and the penalties decreed:

Larry H. Smith, 17, of Salineville R.D. 3, 10 days, reckless drviing.

Richard Allen Strain, 17, of Salem, 15 days, no emergency brake and defective muffler.

Michael Dominic Altomare, 17, of Columbiana R.D., 10 days, unsafe vehicle. At the end of the suspension he must have his car checked by the State Highway Patrol, the court ordered.

Carl Frederick Guthrie, 17, of Beloit, 15 days, speeding.

In addition, Patricia K. Benner, 16, of Beloit R.D. 2 was fined $20 on a speeding charge. All were cited by the patrol.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

'Peyton Place' May Be TV's Waterloo

The minute ABC's twice-weekly "Peyton Place" series became a hit with the viewing public (at least the ratings indicate such is the case), the beleaguered critics of TV were again in trouble.

Hal Humphrey

Smug industry executives are giving us their best we-told - you - so looks and claiming that the success of this nighttime soap opera is more proof of the viewers' thirst for bilge water.

-:-

IF "PEYTON PLACE" continues to gain in the audience ratings, the networks will immerse themselves in more of this sort of thing next season.

What the program nabobs are overlooking is the fact that their current weekly schedules offer viewers so little variety that "Peyton Place" becomes a sanctuary by comparison.

Of 95 prime-time programs on the three networks now, 41, or nearly half, are comedy shows. When the viewer becomes sated with laughs, both mechanical and real, his remaining choice is confined largely to adventure-type sagas with Western backgrounds or never-never lands as depicted in "Outer Limits," "Man from U.N.C.L.E.," etc.

EXCEPT FOR "Mr. Novak," "Defenders," "Combat" and perhaps "Slattery's People" and "Dr. Kildare," the viewer of TV today is hard put to find real people in real situations—unless, of course, one counts a sprinkling of documentaries and some of the old movies.

The people in "Peyton Place" have a certain look of reality about them, despite a Freudian obsession with their sex life, which in itself is an element usually ignored completely in TV comedies and Westerns, so it also is welcomed by the parched viewer.

One reason a batch of old movies rerun on TV frequently will outpull shows created for TV is this same yen of the viewer for something besides comedy and hokey adventure.

AFTER WORLD WAR II the movie theaters lost much of their audience and frantically sent surveyors into the field to find out why. It was too early to blame it on TV.

One of the things shown in the surveys was the fact that after reaching age 30 the average moviegoer's visits to his neighborhood movie dropped off perceptibly.

It took critic Gilbert Seldes to interpret what was happening. He pointed out to the movie producers that after 30 most Americans have matured to a point where they no longer could appreciate or relate to the insipid fare being shown in the movie houses then.

The big movie studios didn't believe Seldes until they first tried bigger screens, three dimension cameras and stereophonic sound. Better pictures finally revived the industry, but there were fewer theaters to show them in by then.

A SIMILAR attrition some day will catch up with the TV networks, but it takes longer because the inadequate rating services do not reflect a drop-off in viewers as quickly as a theater's box office.

Also, disinterested viewers stay longer with mediocre TV than they will with mediocre movies in theaters, since the former is easily available and supposedly free.

Nevertheless, the current TV season could turn out to be catastrophic for both networks and advertisers, should "Peyton Place" be the only new series to maintain a high rating in the weeks to come.

By networks' misinterpreting such a turn of events to mean that viewers crave nighttime soap opera in twice and three times weekly dosages, we could wind up next season with mostly old movies and "Son of Peyton Place" or "Return to Peyton Place."

From there it would be only a short time before we came full circle to wrestling and Dagmar.

Bringing Up Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Can Cultivate 'Concentration'

Some children or adults may concentrate at times so strongly on what they are thinking or doing that you may have difficulty in diverting their attention from it. They may not even hear you when you speak to them. If you are a teacher you may know the child who doesn't for long periods at a stretch, hear what you or his classmates are saying, even while looking straight at you. Yet he may be concentrating on something else wholly unrelated to what is said in his hearing — daydreaming.

Dr. Garry Myers

What he is so absorbed in may be very interesting, even sometimes useful, to him, but his mind may not be centered on what he is supposed to be attending to.

As a parent, you may have to speak several times to your child before he responds or even hears you as he is absorbed in a comic strip, a TV program, or some other matter. He may be concentrating strongly, but not on what you wish him to be concentrating on at the moment.

YOU AND I may sometimes daydream while at church or a lecture or symphony, or in a committee meeting, or while reading a book with a purpose, or just reading. So when we say a child does not concentrate, we usually mean he is not strongly attentive for a sustained period on what we expect him to be attentive to.

When, for example, you are helping your youngster with his lessons, you are annoyed when he does not pay strong and constant attention to the specific item he is supposed to be learning. If he is in your classroom at school you say he doesn't concentrate on the specific items being taught. Of course, children, like adults, vary widely in their degree of concentration as in the foregoing situations.

When a parent writes me about the child who does not concentrate, she writes about the child who doesn't seem to keep his mind long on what she is teaching him at any moment. More often she writes that her child's teacher says "he doesn't pay attention" at school. Sometimes the parent reports that the teacher complains to her about this child's inattention at school, implying that this parent should do something about the matter.

SOMETIMES the teacher expects the parent to command this child to pay better attention at school. This parent may suppose she not only should so command this child but also punish him if he does not obey this command. Yet how absurd and impossible to get good results in this direction.

Often the child so complained about does not follow directions of the teacher or do the written work the other children are doing, or does not continue this work unless the teacher stands right over him, or does something else then or just sits and daydreams.

This youngster may be jumpy and jittery, he may never have learned to cooperate reasonably well in any group or follow directions. He may lag seriously in one or more subjects. When he is not enjoying success at learning, how can we expect him to be interested and attentive?

So anything you can do at home to help your child win more success at reading, arithmetic or spelling, the more attentive at school he will grow in these supbects. Also the better practice he has at conforming to family routines, at carrying out requests or commands, at doing well and promptly a few regular chores, the better prepared he should be at being attentive at school.

ONE SPECIFIC thing any parent may do to cultivate concentration in the child at school is to read aloud to him from the time he is two or younger and continue to do so long after he enters school.

My bulletins, "Why Read to the Baby and Young Child" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" may be secured by sending a stamped, self - addressed envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise By Design—And Enjoy It

Do you find it hard to keep in shape? If you ride to work, and then sit most of the day, this compounds the problem. It is very difficult to avoid the sitter's spread. One exercise-minded career girl offers this plan:

Ida Jean Kain

"Tell the typist with hefty thighs to try this . . . keep her typing paper in a box on the floor beside her, and the carbon paper supply on the opposite side. Every time she needs a new sheet of paper, or has to reach for the carbon paper, the thigh muscles get stretched and rolled upon.This really works, and it beats trying to find time for formal calisthenics. My thighs are slim for my 150 pound weight."

—:—

EXCELLENT! This stretch - bend reaches the boundary lines of the figure, including the side thighline. Any time you can, build activity into your daily routine to make exercise a natural. Why not get paid for exercising on the boss's time?

Another career girl has hit upon a recreation that affords perfect exercise. She reports: "Tell the secretaries with the hip and thigh problems to take up square dancing. It's wonderful! After I moved and could no longer walk to work, fat began to accumulate on the derriere - area. I was threatened with the stenographer's spread. A friend suggested that I join a square dance group. Now I have fun exercising."

A homemaker, who does considerable telephoning, swings into action as she talks. To make the swing easy and more effective, she applies the principle of isometric contraction. Here is her contribution:

"I AM A committee chairman, and this entails considerable telephoning. I stand to telephone, and swing one leg rearward, knee stiff, resisting with hip muscles as I swing. Then I hold the contraction for a few seconds and swing again. I repeat five to six times with each leg, always holding. This no-movement exercise technique tones the bustle of muscle on the hips. I repeat the routine once in the morning and again in the afternoon. Result, svelte hips."

What do you do for exercise? Send along your plan, perhaps it will help someone else.

Exercise, in one form or another, is necessary to well-being, both physical and mental. If the recreational activity you enjoy most affords toning exercise and a release from tension, well, you're in something resembling clover.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Slim Hips In A Hurry. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Plaque Awarded Pottery Union In Aid For Housing

The Interntaional Brotherhood of Operative Potters has been awarded a plaque for its assistance to Four Freedoms, Inc., a nationwide trade union group which helps provide low - cost housing for the elderly.

The plaque was sent to E. L. Wheatley, IBOP president, by W. R. Steinberg, president of the non-profit housing organization, following dedication of the newest unit in Seattle.

The brick and concrete structure will provide housing for 250. It is in a park-like setting of trees and sprawling lawns.

The IBOP has been a member of Four Freedoms virtually from its inception.

Steinberg wrote Wheatley: "You and your union can well be proud of the role you played in bringing this project to fruition. The enclosed plaque was prepared for you so that the part you played will not be forgotten."

Subdivisions Get More Auto Fees

Subdivisions in Columbiana County have received an increase of $419,000 in motor vehicle license revenue in the past two years since enactment of the Porterfield Law, State Auditor Roger Tracy announced.

In 1963 the county's subdivision received $978,140, compared to $768,935 in 1961 the report shows. The funds are used for street and highway maintenance and repair.

Throughout the state, the increase has been nearly $33.8 million.

The Porterfield Act, which was passed over a gubernatorial veto in 1961 and became effective Jan. 1, 1962, provided that license revenues formerly used to finance the operation of the Department of Highway Safety be distributed to the local subdivisions for road and street purposes.

Billy Haughton drove Quick Chief to victory in the 1955 Little Brown Jug pace and this year he scored with Vicar Hanover.

Hamilton UAW Local, GM Reach Agreement

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. have reached a tentative agreement on local issues for 2,350 employes at the Fisher body plant here.

The employes will not return to work until the local and national contracts are ratified here and at a majority of the other GM plants to end the nationwide strike against the auto company. Around 3,200 employes at two GM plants in Norwood a Cincinnati suburb, are still at odds on local issues, it was reported.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise By Design—And Enjoy It

Do you find it hard to keep in shape? If you ride to work, and then sit most of the day, this compounds the problem. It is very difficult to avoid the sitter's spread. One exercise-minded career girl offers this plan:

Ida Jean Kain

"Tell the typist with hefty thighs to try this . . . keep her typing paper in a box on the floor beside her, and the carbon paper supply on the opposite side. Every time she needs a new sheet of paper, or has to reach for the carbon paper, the thigh muscles get stretched and rolled upon.This really works, and it beats trying to find time for formal calisthenics. My thighs are slim for my 150 pound weight."

—:—

EXCELLENT! This stretch - bend reaches the boundary lines of the figure, including the side thighline. Any time you can, build activity into your daily routine to make exercise a natural. Why not get paid for exercising on the boss's time?

Another career girl has hit upon a recreation that affords perfect exercise. She reports:

"Tell the secretaries with the hip and thigh problems to take up square dancing. It's wonderful! After I moved and could no longer walk to work, fat began to accumulate on the derriere - area. I was threatened with the stenographer's spread. A friend suggested that I join a square dance group. Now I have fun exercising."

A homemaker, who does considerable telephoning, swings into action as she talks. To make the swing easy and more effective, she applies the principle of isometric contraction. Here is her contribution:

—:—

"I AM A committee chairman, and this entails considerable telephoning. I stand to telephone, and swing one leg rearward, knee stiff, resisting with hip muscles as I swing. Then I hold the contraction for a few seconds and swing again. I repeat five to six times with each leg, always holding. This no-movement exercise technique tones the bustle of muscle on the hips. I repeat the routine once in the morning and again in the afternoon. Result, svelte hips."

What do you do for exercise? Send along your plan, perhaps it will help someone else.

Exercise, in one form or another, is necessary to well-being, both physical and mental. If the recreational activity you enjoy most affords toning exercise and a release from tension, well, you're in something resembling clover.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Slim Hips In A Hurry. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Plaque Awarded Pottery Union In Aid For Housing

The Interntaional Brotherhood of Operative Potters has been awarded a plaque for its assistance to Four Freedoms, Inc., a nationwide trade union group which helps provide low - cost housing for the elderly.

The plaque was sent to E. L. Wheatley, IBOP president, by W. R. Steinberg, president of the non-profit housing organization, following dedication of the newest unit in Seattle.

The brick and concrete structure will provide housing for 250. It is in a park-like setting of trees and sprawling lawns.

The IBOP has been a member of Four Freedoms virtually from its inception.

Steinberg wrote Wheatley: "You and your union can well be proud of the role you played in bringing this project to fruition. The enclosed plaque was prepared for you so that the part you played will not be forgotten."

Hamilton UAW Local, GM Reach Agreement

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. have reached a tentative agreement on local issues for 2,350 employes at the Fisher body plant here.

The employes will not return to work until the local and national contracts are ratified here and at a majority of the other GM plants to end the nationwide strike against the auto company. Around 3,200 employes at two GM plants in Norwood a Cincinnati suburb, are still at odds on local issues, it was reported.

Birds Plant Trees

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Forestry officials credit the bluejay for the planting of many trees. Bluejays not only place the seeds carefully in the soil but also cover the spot with leaves or pine needles which give the seedlings some protection from the weather.

Subdivisions Get More Auto Fees

Subdivisions in Columbiana County have received an increase of $419,000 in motor vehicle license revenue in the past two years since enactment of the Porterfield Law, State Auditor Roger Tracy announced.

In 1963 the county's subdivision received $978,140, compared to $768,935 in 1961 the report shows. The funds are used for street and highway maintenance and repair.

Throughout the state, the increase has been nearly $33.8 million.

The Porterfield Act, which was passed over a gubernatorial veto in 1961 and became effective Jan. 1, 1962, provided that license revenues formerly used to finance the operation of the Department of Highway Safety be distributed to the local subdivisions for road and street purposes.

Cards, Yanks Move To Stadium With Series Deadlocked

★ ★ ★ Stottlemyre Evens Classic By Pitching 8-3 Win ★ ★ ★

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series was all even at one victory each today but the New York Yankees appeared to have a decided edge over the St. Louis Cardinals because of a rookie pitcher named Mel Stottlemyre.

The young right-hander's name was well known by every member of the Cardinals squad after he whipped them 8-3 with seven hits Thursday for the first Yankee triumph after five straight Series defeats.

"There's nobody like him in the National League," said Ken Boyer, the Cards' captain and third baseman.

"He's nothing but good," added Bob Gibson, the Cards' ace right-hander who lost despite striking out nine Yankees. "I would have had to be at my very best to beat him today.

"One of our scouts reported that Stottlemyre might be the best pitcher on their staff," said Redbird Manager Johnny Keane, "but I never pictured him that good."

No wonder the Yankees left Busch Stadium in St. Louis in a happy frame of mind. The next three games, following a day of rest today, will be played at Yankee Stadium. Stottlemyre is scheduled to pitch again Monday.

This prospect left Keane more disturbed than he cared to admit.

Even he would have to admit that the Yankees' pitching picture looked much brighter than the Cards'.

Keane is set for Saturday's third game with southpaw Curt Simmons, 18-9, opposing right-hander Jim Bouton, 18-13 of the Yankees. After that he's in trouble.

On the other hand, Yankee Manager Yogi Berra has Whitey Ford primed for the fourth game, with his usual three-days rest, to be followed by Stottlemyre.

He will have to come back with lefty Ray Sadecki and Gibson for the fourth and fifth games. Both were treated roughly by Yankee hitters in the first two games, although Sadecki was credited with winning the opener.

Ford didn't have it in the opener when he was beaten by Sadecki, but the veteran left-hander, winner of 10 World Series games, has been almost unbeatable in spacious Yankee Stadium.

The way Stottlemyre pitched Thursday, he's unbeatable anywhere.

While the 22-year-old sinker ball specialist was containing the Cards with only two outfield flies aside from their seven safeties, the Yankees pounded Gibson and three relievers for a dozen hits, including four doubles and a home run.

This gave the Yankees 24 hits in two games, three more than they accumulated in the entire Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers last year.

The victory was especially pleasing to Berra because, as he put it "It's my first one as a manager."

First baseman Joe Pepitone, standing nearby in the Yankees' clubhouse, laughed at Yogi's remark and said:

"Heck, Skip, you only lost one. Before this, I played in five World Series games and I was on the losing team in all of them."

Pepitone was the central figure Thursday in the Series' biggest controversy to date.

The rhubarb occurred in the sixth inning with the score tied at 1-1. Mickey Mantle opened the Yankees' half of the sixth drawing a walk from Gibson. Elston Howard lined to second baseman Dal Maxvill. The count on Pepitone was two strikes and a ball when the first baseman took a half swing at an inside curve ball.

Plate umpire Bill McKinley ruled the ball nicked Pepitone on the thigh and awarded him first base. Gibson, Keane and the entire Cardinal infield rushed to the plate.

"The pitch hit him," repeated McKinley.

"The ball may have hit him," agreed Keane, "but we heard it hit his bat first."

"Pepitone took a sort of half swing at the ball," explained McKinley later, "but he didn't hit it. He just sort of half stepped toward it and the curve ball just came and hit him right there on the thigh."

McKinley pointed to his own right thigh.

All the Cardinals insisted the ball glanced off Pepitone's bat.

'We all heard the ball hit the bat first," insisted Keane. "Pepitone didn't make a move toward first until McKinley sent him to first base. I thought McKinley asked the first base umpire for help but both claimed he didn't."

"The pitch hit me on the thigh," said Pepitone. "Right here."

Then he pointed to his left thigh. No one told him that McKinley had pointed to his own right thigh in giving his version.

In any event, that disputed

Bulldog Wins At Rossford . . .

If the fans of Rossford had anything to say about who would be the coach of the year in Ohio football, East Liverpool's Don (Bulldog) Jackson would win by a landslide.

The people there are quite proud of their football team and are very happy to have a guy like Jackson as their head coach.

Expounding on the record of an undefeated coach some times puts the jinx on him, but Bulldog's success is worth mentioning and we'll take the chance.

Rossford, located near Toledo, is currently working on a 14-game streak without a loss. This season Rossford has jumped out to a 4-0 mark and already has defeated its chief rival by a wide margin.

For his efforts so far this season, Jackson's team was voted 16th in the Class AA high school poll this week, the highest this community ever has been rated in football. And everybody wants to go higher.

Don arrived at Rossford eight years ago and at that time the school was having one bad season after another. He served as an assistant for four years, then in 1961 was named head coach.

He met with success right off the bat, giving Rossford its first winning season in many years. He followed with another winning team in 1962, then last year produced an undefeated outfit which chalked up nine victories and one tie.

His over-all record in four seasons is an outstanding one to say the least. It shows 25 wins, 3 losses and 3 ties.

We are not sure how Don was given the nickname "Bulldog", but it could very well be for his ferocious play on the gridiron when he performed for the Potters and later at Purdue University.

Bulldog was a center on the 1945 Potter team which went undefeated and could very well have been an all-state lineman the following year, but for the betterment of the team moved to fullback on the 1946 club.

Henderson Named To Post . . .

C. P. HENDERSON, superintendent of Stanton Local schools, has been elected new president of the Eastern Ohio Athletic League, which lists 10 Class A schools as members.

Stanton became a member of the loop only two years ago. Henderson, a veteran educator, former coach and tourney official, succeeds Frank Lollini of Yorkville.

League champions are determined on a point system, with a victory over a league team worth 10 points, over a non-league team five points and over an AA school 10 points.

The member schools are Stanton, Yorkville, Dillonvale, Mount Pleasant, Cadiz, Adena, Brilliant, Wayne, Smithfield and Hopedale.

Henderson has been a prominent figure in Jefferson County sports for quite a few years. The league undoubtedly will benefit from his experience and enthusiasm.

Tigers Shoot For Upset . . .

A SHORT schedule this week, but a tough one, puts the crystal ball to another test.

A few weeks ago we didn't think we would have a hard time picking the outcome of the Wellsville-East Liverpool game. But since then a change of events has taken place.

Injuries have hit the Potters for their meeting with Wellsville, and all key personnel. We're picking East Liverpool by a touchdown, but not discounting the fact the Tigers could pull an upset.

East Palestine rates a slight edge over Lisbon tonight, while Minerva gets the nod over Leetonia, McDonald over Crestview and Marietta to name its score against Salem.

Saturday, we like Midland to win its first over Monaca, United's speed to halt Beaver Local, Columbiana to edge Canfield, Port Vue over South Side and Wayne in a close shave over Southern Local.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE CRUCIAL game this week appears to be Steubenville Central at Niles when the Crusaders will test their strength. That game is Saturday night.

Central has drawn 18,000 fans for three home games, with the East Liverpool game luring 7,700, largest of the season.

—:—

HARRY WILSON, Ohio's back of the year in 1962, from Steubenville Big Red, was singled out for his performance in Nebraska's victory over Minnesota two weeks ago. Wilson picked up 40 yards in three trips and caught three passes in 19 yards.

★ ★ ★ Potters Given Slight Edge ★ ★ ★

It's an East Liverpool - Wellsville game and about anything could happen tonight at Patterson Field when the two rivals line up for the kickoff at 7:45.

Coach Bob McNea will send a band of patched up Potters against the Tigers, who enter the clash in tiptop condition.

East Liverpool can be considered a slight favorite in the contest, but Wellsville stands a very good chance of pulling an upset.

THE POTTERS will be minus three regulars. McNea reported tackle Mike Snowden, end Bob Burkhart and halfback Ralph Smith will be on the sidelines nursing injuries.

Al have been key performers for the Potters, especially Snowden and Burkhart. Snowden represents a big loss at tackle both offensively and defensively, while Burkhart was the leading pass receiver, being the favorite target of quarterback Bob Maltarich.

McNea also is concerned over his pass defense, which has completely broken down in the last two games.

WELLSVILLE is a passing team, with quarterback Harry Thornton a better than average passer. And he has an end like 190-pound Pat Welch to throw to. In the Toronto game two weeks ago, Welch caught 16 passes for a school record.

The big threat in Coach Ken Woods' offense is Chris (Thunder) Thornton, who took over the district scoring lead this week after tallying four touchdowns against Southern Local.

THORNTON can run and pass with the best of them and, according to McNea, is the center of the Wellsville defense, playing a middle linebacker.

East Liverpool and Wellsville renewed grid relations last year after a lapse of 11 years. The Potters downed the Tigers, 38-12, a year ago, but Wellsville gave the Blue and White a good battle all the way.

Before 1963, East Liverpool and Wellsville last played in 1952, with the Potters winning, 62-6.

THE TWO schools started playing football in 1904, with East Liverpool showing a 25-18 edge. Five games ended in ties. The last time Wellsville defeated East Liverpool was 1942 by 12-0, but the two schools played to a 0-0 tie in 1944.

The Potters carry a 2-1-1 record into tonight's battle after playing to an 8-8 tie with New Philadelphia last week in the mud. Steubenville Central owns the victory over East Liverpool.

Wellsville stands at 2-2 on the season, with the latest victory a 44-0 rout of Southern Local last Saturday.

When Don Larsen of the Houston Colts blanked the Philadelphia Phillies on Sept. 3 it marked his first shutout since May 30, 1959. Larsen once pitched a perfect World Series for the Yankees.

Stanton Local-Adena Game Is Postponed

The game between Adena and Stanton Local which was scheduled tonight at Stanton Local has been postponed until a later date. The game was called due to the death Thursday of C. B. Shields, superintendent of Adena schools.

★ ★ ★ Potters Given Slight Edge ★ ★ ★

It's an East Liverpool - Wellsville game and about anything could happen tonight at Patterson Field when the two rivals line up for the kickoff at 7:45.

Coach Bob McNea will send a band of patched up Potters against the Tigers, who enter the clash in tiptop condition.

East Liverpool can be considered a slight favorite in the contest, but Wellsville stands a very good chance of pulling an upset.

THE POTTERS will be minus three regulars. McNea reported tackle Mike Snowden, end Bob Burkhart and halfback Ralph Smith will be on the sidelines nursing injuries.

Al have been key performers for the Potters, especially Snowden and Burkhart. Snowden represents a big loss at tackle both offensively and defensively, while Burkhart was the leading pass receiver, being the favorite target of quarterback Bob Maltarich.

McNea also is concerned over his pass defense, which has completely broken down in the last two games.

WELLSVILLE is a passing team, with quarterback Harry Thornton a better than average passer. And he has an end like 190-pound Pat Welch to throw to. In the Toronto game two weeks ago, Welch caught 16 passes for a school record.

The big threat in Coach Ken Woods' offense is Chris (Thunder) Thornton, who took over the district scoring lead this week after tallying four touchdowns against Southern Local.

THORNTON can run and pass with the best of them and, according to McNea, is the center of the Wellsville defense, playing a middle linebacker.

East Liverpool and Wellsville renewed grid relations last year after a lapse of 11 years. The Potters downed the Tigers, 38-12, a year ago, but Wellsville gave the Blue and White a good battle all the way.

Before 1963, East Liverpool and Wellsville last played in 1952, with the Potters winning, 62-6.

THE TWO schools started playing football in 1904, with East Liverpool showing a 25-18 edge. Five games ended in ties. The last time Wellsville defeated East Liverpool was 1942 by 12-0, but the two schools played to a 0-0 tie in 1944.

The Potters carry a 2-1-1 record into tonight's battle after playing to an 8-8 tie with New Philadelphia last week in the mud. Steubenville Central owns the victory over East Liverpool.

Wellsville stands at 2-2 on the season, with the latest victory a 44-0 rout of Southern Local last Saturday.

When Don Larsen of the Houston Colts blanked the Philadelphia Phillies on Sept. 3 it marked his first shutout since May 30, 1959. Larsen once pitched a perfect World Series for the Yankees.

Stanton Local-Adena Game Is Postponed

The game between Adena and Stanton Local which was scheduled tonight at Stanton Local has been postponed until a later date. The game was called due to the death Thursday of C. B. Shields, superintendent of Adena schools.

Hero Of Second Game

Stottlemyre Wasn't Called To New York Until August

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Stottlemyre was graduated from little Yakima, Wash., Junior College in 1961 and looked for some way to employ his lanky right arm.

To his surprise, the most talented, richest and most famous club in baseball—the New York Yankees — took an interest.

"I had no big reputation," said the 22-year-old pitcher, "and the Yankees were the only club that talked to me. I didn't know if I'd get another chance to sign, so I jumped at it. But I didn't get a bonus."

Late Thursday afternoon — three years later — the slim right-hander with the hard-to-spell name, sat in the locker room at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, besieged by reporters. He was the toast of the Yankees.

Stottlemyre had just given the Yankees their first World Series victory after five straight defeats, and evened the 1964 classic against the St. Louis Cardinals at one game apiece.

"This was the last thing that could have entered my mind last spring," he grinned. "I wasn't even on the Yankees' roster when they assigned me to Richmond."

The Yankees brought him up from Richmond Aug. 11 and he won nine games in five weeks to help pitch them to the pennant.

Mixing curves and sliders with his fine sinker, he stymied the Cardinals on seven hits for a 8-3 victory in St. Louis before the teams moved here for the next three games.

"I just pitched my own game," he said. "I surprised myself because I wasn't nervous, at least not after the first pitch. I felt I had good stuff warming up. I thought I'd do all right."

The resident of Mabton, Wash., had his troubles in the late innings against the hard-hitting Red Birds, but he came up with the right pitch at the right time.

Trailing, 4-1, the Cardinals opened the eighth with a single and double, but the Yankee pitching sensation got the next two men to ground out. He walked Bill White and then faced Ken Boyer, the National League's runs-batted-in leader.

Yankee Manager Yogi Berra said later if Boyer had gotten on base he would have brought in a relief pitcher.

But the Yankee hurler got Boyer on a force out and then pitched out of a minor jam in the ninth for the victory.

"He has more poise than any young pitcher I've ever caught," said Elston Howard. "Base hits don't rattle him. He keeps coming back."

New Officers In Babe Ruth Loop Named

New officers were elected at a reorganizational meeting held by the Wellsville Babe Ruth League Wednesday night.

Named were Phillip DeSenze, president; Don Slaughter, vice president; Mrs. Pauline Ensinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Phillip DeSenze, treasurer, and Mrs. Shirley Slaughter, correspondence and publicity.

Appointed to an advisory board were Harry Snyder, Richard Ensinger, Wayne Rose, Willard Havelock and Roland McKenzie.

The meeting nights will be the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The next meeting will be Oct. 14 at 8 p. m. at the Immaculate Conception Parochial School.

Browns Could Take First With Win Over Steelers

CLEVELAND (AP) — A sell-out crowd of 80,000 is expected Saturday night to see if the Cleveland Browns can move into first place in the Eastern Division race of the National Football League.

But the Browns, with a 3-0-1 record, won't know until Monday night if they stand alone. They are tied with the St. Louis Cardinals, who tangle Monday night with the Baltimore Colts, Western Division leaders.

Standing room tickets went on sale today for the Browns' Saturday night game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, who have a 2-2 record. Last year at the stadium the two teams drew 84,684, a new Browns' attendance record. Redesigned bleacher seats and restrictions by fire marshalls won't allow a crowd that size this time, however.

Steeler coach Buddy Parker is optimistic about the game. "All we need are a few breaks," he said. "Any club that gets itself up can beat any other club in this league, and this holds for my team."

Parker has moved rookie end Jim Kelly of Notre Dame into the lineup, replacing top draft choice Paul Martha. The ex-Irish gridder is the Steelers' second best receiver with nine catches for 161 yards. Flanker Gary Ballman leads Steeler receivers with 15 catches for 325 yards and two touchdowns.

The Browns will be missing veteran defensive back Ross Fichtner to keep tabs on the Steeler ends. Fichtner suffered a concussion against the Dallas Cowboys last week and will be available for emergency duty only. He'll be replaced by veteran Bobby Franklin.

Royals Beat Pistons For 8th In 9 Games

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals won their eighth National Basketball Association game in nine starts Thursday beating the Baltimore Bullets 117-107 before 2,500 fans at the Akron Firestone Gym.

Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman led the Royals with 22 points each. Cincinnati now holds a 3-1 edge in a six-game series with the Bullets, who play the Boston Celtics in Cleveland Monday night.

play was the turning point. Tommy Tresh followed with a single that scored Mantle with the tie-breaking run.

The Yankees added two more in the seventh, extending their lead to 4-1 on singles by Phil Linz, Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris, with a Gibson wild pitch thrown in.

With Gibson out for a pinch hitter, the Yankees salted the game with a four-run barrage, triggered by Linz' home run off reliever Barney Schultz.

Hero Of Second Game

Stottlemyre Wasn't Called To New York Until August

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Stottlemyre was graduated from little Yakima, Wash., Junior College in 1961 and looked for some way to employ his lanky right arm.

To his surprise, the most talented, richest and most famous club in baseball—the New York Yankees — took an interest.

"I had no big reputation," said the 22-year-old pitcher, "and the Yankees were the only club that talked to me. I didn't know if I'd get another chance to sign, so I jumped at it. But I didn't get a bonus."

Late Thursday afternoon — three years later — the slim right-hander with the hard-to-spell name, sat in the locker room at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, besieged by reporters. He was the toast of the Yankees.

Stottlemyre had just given the Yankees their first World Series victory after five straight defeats, and evened the 1964 classic against the St. Louis Cardinals at one game apiece.

"This was the last thing that could have entered my mind last spring," he grinned. "I wasn't even on the Yankees' roster when they assigned me to Richmond."

The Yankees brought him up from Richmond Aug. 11 and he won nine games in five weeks to help pitch them to the pennant.

Mixing curves and sliders with his fine sinker, he stymied the Cardinals on seven hits for a 8-3 victory in St. Louis before the teams moved here for the next three games.

"I just pitched my own game," he said. "I surprised myself because I wasn't nervous, at least not after the first pitch. I felt I had good stuff warming up. I thought I'd do all right."

The resident of Mabton, Wash., had his troubles in the late innings against the hard-hitting Red Birds, but he came up with the right pitch at the right time.

Trailing, 4-1, the Cardinals opened the eighth with a single and double, but the Yankee pitching sensation got the next two men to ground out. He walked Bill White and then faced Ken Boyer, the National League's runs-batted-in leader.

Yankee Manager Yogi Berra said later if Boyer had gotten on base he would have brought in a relief pitcher.

But the Yankee hurler got Boyer on a force out and then pitched out of a minor jam in the ninth for the victory.

"He has more poise than any young pitcher I've ever caught," said Elston Howard. "Base hits don't rattle him. He keeps coming back."

New Officers In Babe Ruth Loop Named

New officers were elected at a reorganizational meeting held by the Wellsville Babe Ruth League Wednesday night.

Named were Phillip DeSenze, president; Don Slaughter, vice president; Mrs. Pauline Ensinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Phillip DeSenze, treasurer, and Mrs. Shirley Slaughter, correspondence and publicity.

Appointed to an advisory board were Harry Snyder, Richard Ensinger, Wayne Rose, Willard Havelock and Roland McKenzie.

The meeting nights will be the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The next meeting will be Oct. 14 at 8 p. m. at the Immaculate Conception Parochial School.

Browns Could Take First With Win Over Steelers

CLEVELAND (AP) — A sell-out crowd of 80,000 is expected Saturday night to see if the Cleveland Browns can move into first place in the Eastern Division race of the National Football League.

But the Browns, with a 3-0-1 record, won't know until Monday night if they stand alone. They are tied with the St. Louis Cardinals, who tangle Monday night with the Baltimore Colts, Western Division leaders.

Standing room tickets went on sale today for the Browns' Saturday night game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, who have a 2-2 record. Last year at the stadium the two teams drew 84,684, a new Browns' attendance record. Redesigned bleacher seats and restrictions by fire marshalls won't allow a crowd that size this time, however.

Steeler coach Buddy Parker is optimistic about the game. "All we need are a few breaks," he said. "Any club that gets itself up can beat any other club in this league, and this holds for my team."

Parker has moved rookie end Jim Kelly of Notre Dame into the lineup, replacing top draft choice Paul Martha. The ex-Irish gridder is the Steelers' second best receiver with nine catches for 161 yards. Flanker Gary Ballman leads Steeler receivers with 15 catches for 325 yards and two touchdowns.

The Browns will be missing veteran defensive back Ross Fichtner to keep tabs on the Steeler ends. Fichtner suffered a concussion against the Dallas Cowboys last week and will be available for emergency duty only. He'll be replaced by veteran Bobby Franklin.

Royals Beat Pistons For 8th In 9 Games

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals won their eighth National Basketball Association game in nine starts Thursday beating the Baltimore Bullets 117-107 before 2,500 fans at the Akron Firestone Gym.

Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman led the Royals with 22 points each. Cincinnati now holds a 3-1 edge in a six-game series with the Bullets, who play the Boston Celtics in Cleveland Monday night.

play was the turning point. Tommy Tresh followed with a single that scored Mantle with the tie-breaking run.

The Yankees added two more in the seventh, extending their lead to 4-1 on singles by Phil Linz, Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris, with a Gibson wild pitch thrown in.

With Gibson out for a pinch hitter, the Yankees salted the game with a four-run barrage, triggered by Linz' home run off reliever Barney Schultz.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother had surgery several weeks ago and enjoys talking about her operation more than she ever enjoyed good health.

Last evening in the presence of guests Mother began to recite the details of her recent operation. I was speechless when she reached into her handbag and took out a jar which contained her gallstones.

My husband was horrified. The guests were courteous but I could see stricken looks as they handed the bottle of gallstones from one to the other.

After the guests left I suggested to mother that she'd better not pass around the exhibit again because some folks might consider it offensive. Mother said, "You are wrong. It's educational. Most folks live a lifetime and never get to see a gallstone."

Am I wrong? — MARY.

Dear Mary: Come to think of it I've never seen a gallstone, and if I never see one it will be just fine.

Few things are in worse taste or more tiresome than the details of someone else's operation. The "exhibit" is okay for pre-med students but it has no place in the living room.

Omaha Breach

Dear Ann: Recently I received a letter from a relative. The letter was addressed to me and the word PERSONAL was underlined.

I read the letter, put it back in the envelope and laid it on my dressing table. Later that evening I handed the letter to my husband and asked him to read it. He replied, "I've read it already."

I was shocked and asked if he was aware the letter was addressed to me and marked "personal." He said, "So what? I never thought a thing about it."

It seems we are forever arguing. One of our major problems is his failure to acknowledge that I'm entitled to privacy. What do you suggest? I'm ready to quit. — TROUBLE IN OMAHA.

Dear Omaha: You don't divorce a man because he read a letter addressed to you.

His lack of respect for your rights is a symptom of deeper problems. You need a third party to listen to both sides and pinpoint the real trouble. Ask your clergyman or the Family Service Society to help you.

Borrowing Brother

Dear Ann: Two years ago my brother-in-law borrowed $2,000 from us to make a down payment on a home. They were living in a small apartment with two small children.

Last spring they had another baby so my husband decided not to say anything about the debt. I was furious when they bought a boat for $700 that same summer.

We want to buy a home and the $2,000 would come in mighty handy. My husband doesn't want to ask for it now because they expect another baby this fall.

We realize four children in seven years is expensive, but I feel they are taking advantage of us. Am I being petty? — S-4.

Dear S-4: Just because the stork is practically a household pet at your brother-in-law's house doesn't excuse him from paying debts. Your husband should quit making alibis and ask his brother what he intends to do about the money he owes.

The boat purchase clearly indicates a lack of integrity. If his brother had paid $25 a month, the debt would have been more than half retired by now.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Revie, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NOT SO RAPID. Hitch your wagon to a hog and you wind up off the road. Kimberly Collins, 4, of Salinas, Calif., is having a problem keeping this 250-pound pig, Snowball, on the main road. He detours to sniff flowers.

Political Jigsaw Puzzle

Southerners Are Cool About Johnson, Goldwater

By RELMAN MORIN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The South is a political jigsaw puzzle at this stage of the presidential campaign, a fascinating tangle of party-bolting, personalities, and hotly colored opinions about issues.

And one fact is crystal clear —many Southerners are less than lukewarm about both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"Poor choice." "Lesser of two evils." "Don't feel like voting for either one." "Going fishing Election Day."

On a recent tour of the South, this correspondent heard these sentiments expressed more frequently than any other single view of the campaign. Opinion-samplings by Associated Press bureaus in all the Southern states likewise reported a lack of enthusiasm for the two major party candidates.

"I'm going to vote for Johnson but I wouldn't if there were anyone besides Goldwater on the Republican ticket," said Julie Anne Waxman, Augusta, Ga., a student nurse.

Jackie Carter, Hutchins, Tex., used a bowling term to express his attitude, "It looks like a 7-10 (a difficult position) any way you go. I slightly prefer Goldwater."

An airport bus driver in Amarillo, Tex., said he has heard of a sticker saying "Vote 'no' for president." He said, "That's for me." A Chattanooga housewife, whose husband's car bears a Goldwater sticker, said, "I don't want a sticker that says 'I'm for Johnson,' if I could just get one that says, 'I'm not for Goldwater.'"

Not every Southerner, to be sure, is preparing to cast an "against" vote. Many said the issues as well as the two men have attracted them to the banner of Johnson or Goldwater.

E. G. (Dan) Boone, a Florida lawyer—and a Democrat—said, "People in Florida believe that if Goldwater gets in, the first time Castro gets out of line, there won't be any of this wishy-washy stuff from the State Department. Goldwater will say, 'Buddy, you've had it.'"

A Griffin, Ga., service staion operator said he is for Goldwater "because of this 'nigger' business." Numerous Southerners said a vote for the GOP candidate "is the only way I have to protest against the government ramming civil rights down my throat."

Vice versa, the Rev. Cuthbert Allen, a Dominican priest who is acting president of Belmont Abbey College, Belmont, N.C., said, "I am a Johnson man because I think the present administration is on the right track on all the issues."

In Bridge City, La., Mrs. M. Bourgois said she "looked with disdane" on Johnson when he first took office. But after the attack on U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin, she said, 'I listened to him for the first time and realized how terribly wrong I had been. Here is a truly great leader."

In Johnson's home state, Texans have mixed opinions of him.

Said a West Texas business executive, "Lyndon doesn't have a real friend in Texas. But he knows how to get things done. People may dislike him personally, but they have to admire his ability to work with people."

In Dallas, a Goldwater fortress, a sales representative said, "When you're in that voting booth, it's going to be hard to resist the urge to keep a Texan in the driver's seat."

"I believe Johnson's a good man, but I'm very much opposed to socialism," said Mrs. James Felker, Fort Worth accountant. I'll vote for Goldwater. I think we have too much foreign aid and Johnson is more closely associated with socialism."

The very fact that Johnson, a Texan, drove for the Civil Rights Act has alienated many Southerners. They call him a 'turncoat" and a "renegade."

"Johnson being a Southerner didn't turn out to be much of one," said George Winslow, of La Grange, Ga., a cab driver.

Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who has turned Republican, said "Lnydon's being a Southerner will play some part in the South, but it's what the man stands for that will count."

Thurmond's move may carry Southern votes with him. In Greensboro, N.C. Roy C. Millikan, a Republican, said Thurmond "is a powerful person. What he says travels a long way." In Lawton, Okla., Mrs. John Stanfield, a Democrat, commended Thurmond for his action. I think you should vote for the man and not the party," she said.

A number of those questioned said they were "confused" as the familiar political patterns become blurred in the South.

"It isn't the Democratic party any more," said a Tifton, Ga., contractor. "I'm voting Republican." But a Moultrie, Ga., executive said, "Well, people around here say they're going to vote Republican but when they get in the voting booth with a full stomach and money in their pockets, they'll vote Democratic just as they always have."

Special Election Question To Await Official Rulings

If a school district tax levy or bond issue is defeated at the general election Nov. 3, does state law forbid the same proposal from being submitted at a special election later in 1964?

The County Election Board will seek official rulings on that question from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's chief election officer, and Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw, its legal advisor, to clear up queries on the part of several Boards of Education.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said questions have been received from school districts asking if fund measures can be put to another vote at a special election late in 1964 if they are turned down at the general election Nov. 3.

He said the question arose over a provision in state law that the same question cannot be put on the ballot at a special election twice in the same calendar year.

Technically, when a spacial issue is voted upon on the same date as a general or primary election, it is considered a special election. Therefore, one interpretation of the law would mean that an issue turned down in November could not be put to the voters again in exactly the same form prior to Dec. 31.

"It's my personal opinion that a school district still is entitled to ask a special election if the issue has not been voted upon, aside from a primary or general election," O'Hanlon commented.

He said in the past the Election Board never has drawn a narrow interpretation of the law and has permitted a district to seek a true special election, even though an issue may have been voted upon previously in the same year on the same date as a primary or a general election.

If a special election is sought after the general election, it probably will have to fall in the narrow span between Dec. 8 and Dec. 15, he explained. That's because law forbids a special election within 10 days of certain holidays or 30 days immediately before or after a general or a primary election.

Issues presented at a special election require a 55 per cent affirmative vote for approval, he said. If they're voted on at the general election, only a majority vote is required.

The fact a special election was held in the East Liverpool School District Sept. 15 was the biggest factor in causing a workload to pile up in advance of the general election, O'Hanlon explained.

Ballots used in that special election must be retained for a minimum of 60 days, he pointed out. Since the 60 days will not have expired prior to the general election, that means the special election ballots must be removed from the suitcases in which they were returned from the polling places.

The ballots then will be stored in individual boxes so that the precinct supply suitcases can be packed with ballots and other material for the general election.

That's one of the facets of the special election "that slowed up the entire operating procedure of the (Election Board) office," O'Hanlon said.

Some ballots already have been delivered by the printing contractor for the general election and the board has been advised poll books will arrive next Thursday.

Meanwhile, the Election Board is drafting a letter to all personnel employed in the Rogers village precinct of Middleton Township to prevent possible confusion in a vote Nov. 3 on a five-question local option ballot.

The question is to be voted upon only in the area of Mdidleton Township outside Rogers. However, the Rogers polling place is a so-called combined village - township precinct, in that residents of both subdivisions vote there.

The Election workers will be warned not to permit any village residents to vote on the local option question, as they are not entitled to a voice. They also will be cautioned to get street addresses of all voters who obtain ballots as one way of making certain no unqualified person participates.

PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

Q. Why can't I buy certain drugs without a prescription? Isn't this some kind of conspiracy between the druggist and the doctor?

A. Yes, you might call it a conspiracy — a conspiracy to protect your health! Certain drugs are labeled: "Federal Law Prohibits Dispensing Without Prescription." This "prescription legend" signifies that the drug is potent enough to require the judgment of a licensed medical practitioner to authorize its use by the patient and to determine the dosage to be taken, the frequency of administration, the length of time it is to be used, and the advisability of repeated administration. The pharmacist is the legal custodian of such drugs and it is the pharmacist who is responsible for compliance with the law. Patients sometimes embarrass their pharmacist by insisting that they be allowed to purchase a "prescription legend" drug without a prescription or that he refill their prescription for such a drug without the doctor's approval. In refusing, your pharmacist is complying with the law, and he does so to protect you.

Remember — the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother had surgery several weeks ago and enjoys talking about her operation more than she ever enjoyed good health.

Last evening in the presence of guests Mother began to recite the details of her recent operation. I was speechless when she reached into her handbag and took out a jar which contained her gallstones.

My husband was horrified. The guests were courteous but I could see stricken looks as they handed the bottle of gallstones from one to the other.

After the guests left I suggested to mother that she'd better not pass around the exhibit again because some folks might consider it offensive. Mother said, "You are wrong. It's educational. Most folks live a lifetime and never get to see a gallstone."

Am I wrong? — MARY.

Dear Mary: Come to think of it I've never seen a gallstone, and if I never see one it will be just fine.

Few things are in worse taste or more tiresome than the details of someone else's operation. The "exhibit" is okay for pre-med students but it has no place in the living room.

Omaha Breach

Dear Ann: Recently I received a letter from a relative. The letter was addressed to me and the word PERSONAL was underlined.

I read the letter, put it back in the envelope and laid it on my dressing table. Later that evening I handed the letter to my husband and asked him to read it. He replied, "I've read it already."

I was shocked and asked if he was aware the letter was addressed to me and marked "personal." He said, "So what? I never thought a thing about it."

It seems we are forever arguing. One of our major problems is his failure to acknowledge that I'm entitled to privacy. What do you suggest? I'm ready to quit. — TROUBLE IN OMAHA.

Dear Omaha: You don't divorce a man because he read a letter addressed to you.

His lack of respect for your rights is a symptom of deeper problems. You need a third party to listen to both sides and pinpoint the real trouble. Ask your clergyman or the Family Service Society to help you.

Borrowing Brother

Dear Ann: Two years ago my brother-in-law borrowed $2,000 from us to make a down payment on a home. They were living in a small apartment with two small children.

Last spring they had another baby so my husband decided not to say anything about the debt. I was furious when they bought a boat for $700 that same summer.

We want to buy a home and the $2,000 would come in mighty handy. My husband doesn't want to ask for it now because they expect another baby this fall.

We realize four children in seven years is expensive, but I feel they are taking advantage of us. Am I being petty? — S-4.

Dear S-4: Just because the stork is practically a household pet at your brother-in-law's house doesn't excuse him from paying debts. Your husband should quit making alibis and ask his brother what he intends to do about the money he owes.

The boat purchase clearly indicates a lack of integrity. If his brother had paid $25 a month, the debt would have been more than half retired by now.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Revie, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NOT SO RAPID. Hitch your wagon to a hog and you wind up off the road. Kimberly Collins, 4, of Salinas, Calif., is having a problem keeping this 250-pound pig, Snowball, on the main road. He detours to sniff flowers.

Political Jigsaw Puzzle

Southerners Are Cool About Johnson, Goldwater

By RELMAN MORIN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The South is a political jigsaw puzzle at this stage of the presidential campaign, a fascinating tangle of party-bolting, personalities, and hotly colored opinions about issues.

And one fact is crystal clear —many Southerners are less than lukewarm about both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"Poor choice." "Lesser of two evils." "Don't feel like voting for either one." "Going fishing Election Day."

On a recent tour of the South, this correspondent heard these sentiments expressed more frequently than any other single view of the campaign. Opinion-samplings by Associated Press bureaus in all the Southern states likewise reported a lack of enthusiasm for the two major party candidates.

"I'm going to vote for Johnson but I wouldn't if there were anyone besides Goldwater on the Republican ticket," said Julie Anne Waxman, Augusta, Ga., a student nurse.

Jackie Carter, Hutchins, Tex., used a bowling term to express his attitude, "It looks like a 7-10 (a difficult position) any way you go. I slightly prefer Goldwater."

An airport bus driver in Amarillo, Tex., said he has heard of a sticker saying "Vote 'no' for president." He said, "That's for me." A Chattanooga housewife, whose husband's car bears a Goldwater sticker, said, "I don't want a sticker that says 'I'm for Johnson,' if I could just get one that says, 'I'm not for Goldwater.'"

Not every Southerner, to be sure, is preparing to cast an "against" vote. Many said the issues as well as the two men have attracted them to the banner of Johnson or Goldwater.

A Griffin, Ga., service staion operator said he is for Goldwater "because of this 'nigger' business." Numerous Southerners said a vote for the GOP candidate "is the only way I have to protest against the government ramming civil rights down my throat."

Vice versa, the Rev. Cuthbert Allen, a Dominican priest who is acting president of Belmont Abbey College, Belmont, N.C., said, "I am a Johnson man because I think the present administration is on the right track on all the issues."

In Bridge City, La., Mrs. M. Bourgois said she "looked with disdane" on Johnson when he first took office. But after the attack on U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin, she said, 'I listened to him for the first time and realized how terribly wrong I had been. Here is a truly great leader."

"I believe Johnson's a good man, but I'm very much opposed to socialism," said Mrs. James Felker, Fort Worth accountant. I'll vote for Goldwater. I think we have too much foreign aid and Johnson is more closely associated with socialism."

The very fact that Johnson, a Texan, drove for the Civil Rights Act has alienated many Southerners. They call him a 'turncoat" and a "renegade."

"Johnson being a Southerner didn't turn out to be much of one," said George Winslow, of La Grange, Ga., a cab driver.

Midland district schools will be closed for an in-service day for teachers but the Borough Building will remain open.

Area Banking Group Tours Crucible Mill

Members of the Steubenville Chapter of the American Institute of Banking toured the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland Wednesday.

The mill entertained 70 area bankers and guests for dinner in the plant diningroom, with the tour following.

The tour was arranged by the chapter officers, Robert Milby, president, and Robert Gessford, vice president, both of First National Bank in East Liverpool, Mrs. Sarah Dickey of the Potters Bank and Trust Co., secretary.

Woman At Wellsville Fined On Minor Sale

Ann Adams, 502½ 13th St., Wellsville, was fined $100 and costs Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

She allegedly sold eight packages of beer to a 16-year-old Wellsville girl without inquiring as to her age.

Juvenile Court identified her as an employe of the Hideaway Bar, 502 13th St.

Susan Mercer Heads Southern Local Class

SALINEVILLE — Susan Mercer of Wellsville R. D. 1 was elected president of the Freshman Class at Southern Local High School this morning.

Other officers named were Gayle Brammer of Salineville, vice president; Candy Smith of Salineville, secretary; Diane Adams of near Monroeville, treasurer.

Nancy Fraser and Jay Clapsaddle of Salineville were named Student Council representatives.

Officers for other high school classes were chosen in the spring.

SUMMITVILLE — C. R. McKenzie, treasurer of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, spoke at a meeting of the Women's Civic Club Thursday night with Mrs. Marjorie Roberts.

He spoke on the association clinic at Lisbon and how it is financed. He also distributed pamphlets concerning the proposed levy on the Nov. 3 ballot for the clinic.

Eleven attended the meeting at which discussion was held on requesting the Ohio Highway Department to provide signs in the area pointing the direction and distance to the village.

Mrs. Fred A. Rogers, president, was in charge. McKenzie was introduced by Mrs. Ernest Phillips.

Refreshments were served buffet style at a table decorated with a white cloth and blue and white appointments.

Mrs. Donald McCord assisted the hostess. The next meeting will be Nov. 12 with Mrs. David Rogers.

Mailmen Will Deliver Letters In Fund Drive

Twenty-one city mailmen will join others throughout the county today and Saturday in distributing letters seeking funds for the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

The letters are from comedian Bob Hope, chairman of the "Mailmen's March," asking donations. A business reply envelope is enclosed so donations may be sent directly to the foundation's headquarters in Hyde Park, N. Y.

The one-time fund-raising project is in commemoriation of the late first lady's 80th birthday anniversary Sunday and donations will be used to further the foundation's human rights internship, international fellowships in cancer research and to aid underprivileged and emotionally-troubled children.

Humphrey Goes To Pennsylvania And New Jersey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey heads into New Jersey and Pennsylvania today for two days of campaigning in states Democrats hope to carry by large margins Nov. 3.

After a day's rest, the Democratic vice presidential nominee had a crowded schedule today and Saturday, including a noon-hour rally in Philadelphia, a talk at Princeton University, a speech in Jersey City and a swing through the Philadelphia suburbs covered Tuesday by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Humphrey said in his speech at Princeton that President Johnson, like predecessors Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy, understands "that the presidency is our principal link binding the past to the present, and the present to the future."

"The presidency is the only office in our constitutional system that holds together the many divided parts of the executive . . . and that represents the nation as a whole in the international area," he said.

Humphrey called Johnson "a born leader" and said that under his leadership the 88th Congress became "one of the most productive Congresses since Woodrow Wilson took the helm after his 1912 election."

3 County Courts Pay $3,955 To Treasury

LISBON — The three County Courts at Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon paid the county treasurer a total of $3,955.15 in fines and costs for September, according to a report of Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey.

Another $1,582.60 went to the state treasurer for fines and costs in cases filed by the State Highway Patol and other state enforcement officers.

A breakdown shows $2,111.40 in patrol fines and $1,843.75 in civil and criminal cases and costs paid to the county. State Patrol fines amounting to $1,560.60, plus $22 in other fines, went to the state treasurer.

There were 333 criminal cases filed during the month, along with 51 civil cases. Sheriff, constable and police fees amounted to $216.60.

In Duke's opening football game 9-9 tie with South Carolina, the Blue Devils completed 10 passes, one less than SC.

Man Cited In Traffic Death Of Patrolman

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The death of an Ohio Highway Patrolman in a 25-car accident last Saturday on Interstate 75 has resulted in a second degree manslaughter charge being filed against Gordon G. Samuels, 33.

Sgt. Edward P. Goffos, commanding officer of the Hamilton Patrol post, filed the charge. He said Samuels' car struck and killed Plt. Ernest E. Cole, 24, as Cole tried to direct traffic in the fog. Another person was killed and 22 injured in the massive pileup.

The San Francisco Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 10 times in 18 National League games this season.

'Ours Not A Machine Business'

Firm Junks Automation For Old Accounting Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — So many companies were turning to automation that people began to wonder where it would all end.

Well, it already has ended at the clothing firm of Phelps-Terkel, which operates six stores in the Los Angeles area. The company decided that its punch-card accounting system had too many holes in it and that automation ought to go.

So, with their latest monthly statements, Phelps-Terkel customers received a machine card with this message on the back: "Please fold, bend, mutilate and staple."

And, on the front: "You are holding the last punched card you'll ever receive from Phelps-Terkel. We've tried to make our peace with automation. But it hasn't worked. Ours is just not a machine business.

"Consequently, we are reverting to our slightly archaic yet highly personalized accounting methods. We think you'll like our new-old billing method better. We know we will."

Dave Phelps, firm president, said this bold step backward was applauded by customers. One wrote: "Thank God for people."

"We automated a little less than a year ago," Phelps said. "Some people closed their accounts because they didn't feel a business like ours should."

And, Phelps said, there were technical problems.

"One time," he said, "a janitor got a check for $5,000 for two weeks' work.

"The question was whether a small company like ours would be getting enough out of it to make it worth while."

When the decision was made, the store's advertising firm was called on to compose the notice to customers.

"We saw this as an opportunity to appeal to humanness," said Tom Faust, an advertising man.

Columnist Reported 'Fair' After Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doris Fleeson, nationally syndicated political columnist, was listed in fair condition early today at the Washington Hospital Center. She suffered an attack of high blood pressure while covering Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's whistle-stop train tour.

Miss Fleeson got off the "Lady Bird Special" Wednesday at Charlotte, N.C., and flew here by commercial plane.

Her husband, former Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball, said Thursday night she would remain in the hospital a few days for medical tests.

Chicago Police Report No Trace Of Ohio Boy

CHICAGO (AP)—Police say no trace has been found of two 17-year-old boys from Cincinnati, Ohio—William Stone and William Havens—who reportedly came to Chicago Monday to visit the racetracks.

Police said Thursday night the boys' pictures were included in a daily police bulletin and that the entire force has been alerted to watch for them. The boys are believed to have at least $3,000 between them.

Ohio Baptists Elect Minister Of Marietta

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Marietta minister, the Rev. Paul J. Christensen, is the new president of the Ohio Baptist Convention, which represents 340 American Baptist churches in the state.

He was elected Thursday at the group's 139th annual meeting and succeeds Dr. Clifton Mack of Dayton, who was named to a three-year term on the board of trustees. The three-day convention ended today.

The New York Yankees beat Kansas City 12 times in 18 meetings this year.

'Ours Not A Machine Business'

Firm Junks Automation For Old Accounting Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — So many companies were turning to automation that people began to wonder where it would all end.

Well, it already has ended at the clothing firm of Phelps-Terkel, which operates six stores in the Los Angeles area. The company decided that its punch-card accounting system had too many holes in it and that automation ought to go.

So, with their latest monthly statements, Phelps-Terkel customers received a machine card with this message on the back: "Please fold, bend, mutilate and staple."

And, on the front: "You are holding the last punched card you'll ever receive from Phelps-Terkel. We've tried to make our peace with automation. But it hasn't worked. Ours is just not a machine business.

"Consequently, we are reverting to our slightly archaic yet highly personalized accounting methods. We think you'll like our new-old billing method better. We know we will."

Dave Phelps, firm president, said this bold step backward was applauded by customers. One wrote: "Thank God for people."

"We automated a little less than a year ago," Phelps said. "Some people closed their accounts because they didn't feel a business like ours should."

And, Phelps said, there were technical problems.

"One time," he said, "a janitor got a check for $5,000 for two weeks' work.

"The question was whether a small company like ours would be getting enough out of it to make it worth while."

When the decision was made, the store's advertising firm was called on to compose the notice to customers.

"We saw this as an opportunity to appeal to humanness," said Tom Faust, an advertising man.

Columnist Reported 'Fair' After Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doris Fleeson, nationally syndicated political columnist, was listed in fair condition early today at the Washington Hospital Center. She suffered an attack of high blood pressure while covering Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's whistle-stop train tour.

Miss Fleeson got off the "Lady Bird Special" Wednesday at Charlotte, N.C., and flew here by commercial plane.

Her husband, former Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball, said Thursday night she would remain in the hospital a few days for medical tests.

Chicago Police Report No Trace Of Ohio Boy

CHICAGO (AP)—Police say no trace has been found of two 17-year-old boys from Cincinnati, Ohio—William Stone and William Havens—who reportedly came to Chicago Monday to visit the racetracks.

Police said Thursday night the boys' pictures were included in a daily police bulletin and that the entire force has been alerted to watch for them. The boys are believed to have at least $3,000 between them.

Ohio Baptists Elect Minister Of Marietta

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Marietta minister, the Rev. Paul J. Christensen, is the new president of the Ohio Baptist Convention, which represents 340 American Baptist churches in the state.

He was elected Thursday at the group's 139th annual meeting and succeeds Dr. Clifton Mack of Dayton, who was named to a three-year term on the board of trustees. The three-day convention ended today.

The New York Yankees beat Kansas City 12 times in 18 meetings this year.

"Ear, nose or throat?"

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Oct. 9, the 283rd day of 1964. There are 83 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1934, King Alexander I of Yugoslavia and French Foreign Minister Berthou were assassinated by a Groat student in Marseilles, France.

On this date:

In 1701, Yale College received its charter.

In 1867, Russia formally transferred Alaska to the United States.

In 1938, the St. Clair River Bridge was dedicated at Port Huron, Mich., and Point Edward, Ontario.

In 1940, Winston Churchill was elected leader of the Conservative party in Britain.

In 1944, the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world security was made public.

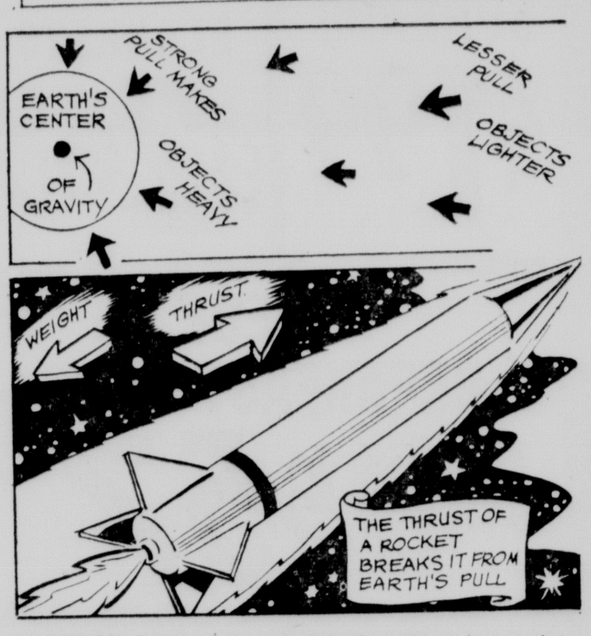
Ten years ago—former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson died of a heart attack in Washington.

Five years ago—The Council of Ministers of the former Baghdad Pact issued a communique announcing a change of name to Central Treaty Organization, or Cento, following Iraq's withdrawal.

One year ago—President Kennedy authorized a $250-million wheat sale to Soviet Russia, thus clearing the way for sale of wheat to other Soviet bloc countries.

In 1905, a mine superintendent in South Africa noticed a glimmer in the wall of a mine and, after a few moments of digging, picked out a one-pound six-ounce giant, the Cullinan. The gem is set in the British Royal Scepter.

A Junior Editors Quiz About ROCKETS



QUESTION: Does a rocket's weight decrease as it soars into space?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Let's answer this by asking another question: what is weight? Sir Isaac Newton answered this when, in 1687, he formulated his famous law of gravitation, which stated that all objects attract each other with a force depending on their size and the distance between them. Since we are all living on the surface of the earth, the very heavy mass of the earth attracts or pulls us toward its center—which is the reason we don't just drift off into space. The degree of pull on things of different size gives them their different weights. A large thing has more weight than a small thing. Weight changes, however, when we get away from the force of gravity. A man weighing 150 pounds would weigh the same in any country on earth because he would always be the same distance from the earth's center of gravity. In the same way, a rocket would always have the same weight when standing on the launching pad of any rocket-launching station. But the moment it shoots upward, the rockets motor thrust is overcoming the gravity, and the rocket becomes lighter every moment it zooms up into space.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: If you were standing on the moon, would you weigh more or less than on earth? See if you can figure this out, then look up the answer or ask one of your teachers.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is a tip for expectant mothers, or those who have small children. Buy a double-bed-size cotton sheet-blanket. Cut it into quarters so that you have four, almost-square blankets. Bind the edges with bias tape, hem them on your sewing machine, or crochet with contrasting colored threads.

These blankets can be used as a sheet or cover in the bassinet or as baby shower gifts. (Cotton sheet-blankets come in such lovely colors and stripes now).

They're the ideal size for drying tiny babies at bath time, and they are big enough to wrap toddlers in, too.

By adding seam tape-ties at the corners, it will make a nice playpen pad.

They're perfect for the beach since they really soak up the water, yet they aren't bulky to carry. They are also good for traveling with children who take naps.

My 4-year-old uses one for a 'tea party' tablecloth, and they fit well on picnic tables, too.

I guarantee that once you have used blankets of this size, you will wonder how you ever got along without them.

MOM

DEAR HELOISE: I have cringed everytime I faced the task of cleaning my electric deep-fat cooker.

The vegetable oil left a gummy deposit that took tons of elbow grease to remove, and even that did not do a complete job. Knowing that you swear by vinegar as a panacea for many household ills, I thought I'd give it a try. Mirabile dictu, it worked!

My fryer basket is perforated aluminum. To clean it and the fryer, I simply used full strength vinegar with my nylon net cloth. For really stubborn places it was necessary to use steel wool.

DOROTHY P. TRAVERS

DEAR HELOISE: The woman who wrote the item about cleaning her partial dentures with nylon net when out visiting, could also try wiping them hard with a facial tissue in an emergency. It works beautifully.

W. W. WILLIAMS, DDS

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that if you spray a mohair sweater lightly with a good hair spray, it will help keep the sweater from shedding?

LINDA POTTER.

WHEW! We have been looking for the answer for years. I talked with Van Sigworth of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning in Washington and after some research, here's what he said:

"Now for an answer to your question of how to stop a new mohair sweater from shedding on everything it touches. As you know, mohair yarn construction runs from a loose twist to a high twist and knit. The loose twist sheds more readily, and the tight twist also sheds, but not as much. The Institute believes there is really no way of stopping this shedding. It simply happens because of loose fibers which are not tied into the base fabric. That's simply the nature of mohair.

"Now, the idea of spraying the mohair with a hair spray is really not a bad one. It will help somewhat. But there is a possible danger of the dye being affected. Best advice . . . test first on a hidden seam."

Now, gals, let me add a bit of caution:

As Mr. Sigworth said, first test the hairspray you use on a HIDDEN seam, so that if the material is affected, it won't show. And suggest you spray it lightly.

There are so many kinds of sprays on the market today. Some contain alcohol and fixatives. Others contain lacquer. Be sure this does not affect your particular mohair garment before spraying away from stem-to-stern . . .

And, I think Linda should have her name in lights on Broadway for thinking up this one. Bless you, hon.

United Fund's Activity Told Kiwanis Club

A description of the operations and objectives of the United Fund in the East Liverpool area was given by Sidney Porter at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Porter, along with James Locke, 1964 campaign chairman, and Richard Emmerling, president of the Fund Association, spoke.

Porter told of the development of the fund program over the years, and how the contributions made through payroll deductions help provide finances for service and welfare agencies.

He underscored the need for business and industrial leaders to co-operate in the fund program which depends fundamentally on the pledge and deduction plan.

Porter stressed the savings in the capaign expenses by combining the fund drive and other operations of the current 12 agencies into a single effort.

The fact that individuals lack the time oro means to study the budgets of the participating groups was mentioned by Porter, who said that the United Fund board does study the needs and operations of each agency in preparation for allotting its appropriation.

Porter told club members as business and industrial leaders, they should support the current drive for $110,000 which began this week.

Porter, who is Industrial Division chairman of the drive, was introduced by Emmerling.

Windup At New Orleans

Lady Bird's Whistlestop To Join With President

ABOARD THE LADY BIRD SPECIAL (AP) — Cutting across the Gulf Coast, Lady Bird Johnson's whistle-stop train joins campaign forces with the President for a double-barrelled political windup in New Orleans tonight.

Johnson plans to be waiting at the station when his wife rounds the last bend in her four-day, 1,682-mile sentimental political journey.

Both of them are busy seeking Dixie votes on separate routes today. Johnson was flying into Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., making his way to a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner celebration in New Orleans.

Lady Bird gave her engineer orders to pull out of Tallahassee, Fla., at 5:35 a.m. after a rousing Florida State College homecoming rally with about 3,000 students and an overnight rest stop.

She had to be out on the train's observation platform to greet folks at an engine switching stop at Chattahoochee, Fla., an hour later.

"I've been working on the railroad," Mrs. Johnson jokingly paraphrased the familiar song. But it wasn't really a joke. She had been putting in long, hard days and had made 36 stops and 36 speeches in a span of 72 hours.

It was wearying, but rewarding. As Mrs. Johnson put it, there were "bigger and bigger enthusiastic crowds" all the way from Washington to Florida. According to her generous whistle stop counters, a million people will have turned out to see the President's wife by the time her train reaches New Orleans.

Georgia's Gov. Carl Sanders said the Lady Bird Special started out as a train but seems to be "trying to wind up as a bandwagon."

It was all like a traveling road show, with the whole Johnson family getting into the act. The latest to join up was daughter Luci, 17, who did everything from cheering Valdosta, Ga., with word she knew about their football team to lecturing young Goldwater hecklers, on respecting the rights of others who have opposing views.

She just about stole the show at Florida State College Thursday night, with the crowd shouting "We want Luci." To the delight of the big audience, Luci seemed taken by surprise when coeds crowned her with a huge red, white and blue feather headdress and made her an honorary member of their 1964 homecoming court.

She promptly rose to the occasion, delivering a speech on the responsibilities of her generation to prepare for the time when they will be handed their country's problems to solve.

Controversial Trip To Quebec

Queen's Guarded Closely On French Canada Visit

QUEBEC (AP) — Frogmen searched the cold waters of Wolfe's Cove today and plainclothesmen with police dogs patrolled the historic Plains of Abraham as Queen Elizabeth's yacht steamed up the St. Lawrence for the queen's controversial visit to French Canada.

Despite some official denials, there were many signs that security safeguards would surpass anything ever set up in Canada for the visit of a head of state.

Checkpoints were in operation on all roads to make sure that no known extremists in the French separatist movement entered the city. Occupants of all automobiles were required to show identification papers.

The queen, who arrived on Prince Edward Island Monday for an 8-day Canadian visit, is expected to disembark from the royal yacht Britannia at Wolfe's Cove Saturday morning. She will remain in Quebec until Sunday night, when she will fly to Ottawa for the final stop of her visit.

Frogmen have been exploring the dock area for several days. They will keep watch on the hull of the Britannia while the queen is here. She and Prince Philip will live aboard, as they did in Charlottetown earlier in the week.

More than 1,000 police will be backed by soldiers and fire brigades on standby. The royal routes through the city will be lined with soldiers. Buses are ready to move police about quickly.

Security authorities have clamped tight restrictions on demonstrations by the separatists.

They also are concerned over a rash of threatening letters and telephone calls.

Le Rassemblement Pour L'Independence Nationale, a separatist organization, has called a rally tonight to voice its objections. Police granted a permit for the rally but made clear they would not tolerate manifestations after the queen arrived.

Young Has Busy Campaign Slate Set For Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D — Ohio, had a busy day of campaigning scheduled here today, including a motorcade and an appearance at a high school football game.

Young, who is seeking re-election to the Senate, planned to start his campaign visit at 10 a.m. Appearances on the courthouses steps and at various plant gates to greet workers were on tap.

He planned to wind up at the football game between Akron Hoban and Akron East high schools to be on hand for the dedication of the new Hoban stadium tonight.

Young's opponent in the Senate race is Republican Ohio Congressman - at - large Robert Taft Jr. Young Thursday declined an invitation by the Crosley Broadcasting Corp. to meet Taft in a televised debate over Crosley's Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati outlets.

Cornshock Raid Brings Penalty

George Larry Hubbard, 21, of 808 Washington St., Wellsville, lost the right to drive for 30 days because he led a cornshock raid on a St. Clair Township farm Sept. 30.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin imposed the sentence Thursday after finding Hubbard guilty of contributing to the delinquency of four Wellsville and East Liverpool boys, ages 14-17.

The court fined all $25 each —the money to be used to reimburse the farmer for $75 damages, and the rest is to go to the Child Counseling Center in East Liverpool.

Cecil Lyons of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., called constable R. W. Wright for help after he discovered the boys upsetting shocks in his field about 8:10 p.m. The five youths ran away, leaving Hubbard's automobile. The constable found them hiding nearby and Lyons told the court they knocked down 69 shocks.

Administration's Poverty Program Attacked By Taft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says the Johnson administration's anti - poverty program is an example of excessive growth of government.

In a speech at a Republican Day rally on the Ohio State University campus Thursday, Taft said:

"The poverty program authorizes a federal bureau to come right into a community, doing what the director (of the bureau) wants, bypassing the local governments."

Taft, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, said the federal government should only become involved in state and local problems "when the state can't handle it, and even then it should work with the state in administering a program."

Taft also said he disagrees with Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's stands on the civil rights bill and the nuclear test ban treaty.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill and against Senate ratification of the treaty.

Taft, who voted for the civil rights measure, said Goldwater's "opposition to the civil rights bill was based on his belief that the public accommodations section was an excessive use of federal power. "I don't agree with him.

"As for the nuclear treaty, it is too early for anyone to know how beneficial it would be."

Russian Figure Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — Eugene Varga, an often-censured economist who survived the wrath of Stalin, died Thursday at the age of 84. Tass said Varga died of a heart ailment.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is a tip for expectant mothers, or those who have small children. Buy a double-bed-size cotton sheet-blanket. Cut it into quarters so that you have four, almost-square blankets. Bind the edges with bias tape, hem them on your sewing machine, or crochet with contrasting colored threads.

These blankets can be used as a sheet or cover in the bassinet or as baby shower gifts. (Cotton sheet-blankets come in such lovely colors and stripes now).

They're the ideal size for drying tiny babies at bath time, and they are big enough to wrap toddlers in, too.

By adding seam tape-ties at the corners, it will make a nice playpen pad.

They're perfect for the beach since they really soak up the water, yet they aren't bulky to carry. They are also good for traveling with children who take naps.

My 4-year-old uses one for a 'tea party' tablecloth, and they fit well on picnic tables, too.

I guarantee that once you have used blankets of this size, you will wonder how you ever got along without them.

MOM

DEAR HELOISE: I have cringed everytime I faced the task of cleaning my electric deep-fat cooker.

The vegetable oil left a gummy deposit that took tons of elbow grease to remove, and even that did not do a complete job. Knowing that you swear by vinegar as a panacea for many household ills, I thought I'd give it a try. Mirabile dictu, it worked!

My fryer basket is perforated aluminum. To clean it and the fryer, I simply used full strength vinegar with my nylon net cloth. For really stubborn places it was necessary to use steel wool.

DOROTHY P. TRAVERS

DEAR HELOISE: The woman who wrote the item about cleaning her partial dentures with nylon net when out visiting, could also try wiping them hard with a facial tissue in an emergency. It works beautifully.

W. W. WILLIAMS, DDS

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that if you spray a mohair sweater lightly with a good hair spray, it will help keep the sweater from shedding?

LINDA POTTER.

WHEW! We have been looking for the answer for years. I talked with Van Sigworth of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning in Washington and after some research, here's what he said:

"Now for an answer to your question of how to stop a new mohair sweater from shedding on everything it touches. As you know, mohair yarn construction runs from a loose twist to a high twist and knit. The loose twist sheds more readily, and the tight twist also sheds, but not as much. The Institute believes there is really no way of stopping this shedding. It simply happens because of loose fibers which are not tied into the base fabric. That's simply the nature of mohair.

"Now, the idea of spraying the mohair with a hair spray is really not a bad one. It will help somewhat. But there is a possible danger of the dye being affected. Best advice . . . test first on a hidden seam."

Now, gals, let me add a bit of caution:

As Mr. Sigworth said, first test the hairspray you use on a HIDDEN seam, so that if the material is affected, it won't show. And suggest you spray it lightly.

There are so many kinds of sprays on the market today. Some contain alcohol and fixatives. Others contain lacquer. Be sure this does not affect your particular mohair garment before spraying away from stem-to-stern . . .

And, I think Linda should have her name in lights on Broadway for thinking up this one. Bless you, hon.

United Fund's Activity Told Kiwanis Club

A description of the operations and objectives of the United Fund in the East Liverpool area was given by Sidney Porter at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Porter, along with James Locke, 1964 campaign chairman, and Richard Emmerling, president of the Fund Association, spoke.

Porter told of the development of the fund program over the years, and how the contributions made through payroll deductions help provide finances for service and welfare agencies.

He underscored the need for business and industrial leaders to co-operate in the fund program which depends fundamentally on the pledge and deduction plan.

Porter stressed the savings in the capaign expenses by combining the fund drive and other operations of the current 12 agencies into a single effort.

The fact that individuals lack the time oro means to study the budgets of the participating groups was mentioned by Porter, who said that the United Fund board does study the needs and operations of each agency in preparation for allotting its appropriation.

Porter told club members as business and industrial leaders, they should support the current drive for $110,000 which began this week.

Porter, who is Industrial Division chairman of the drive, was introduced by Emmerling.

Windup At New Orleans

Lady Bird's Whistlestop To Join With President

ABOARD THE LADY BIRD SPECIAL (AP) — Cutting across the Gulf Coast, Lady Bird Johnson's whistle-stop train joins campaign forces with the President for a double-barrelled political windup in New Orleans tonight.

Johnson plans to be waiting at the station when his wife rounds the last bend in her four-day, 1,682-mile sentimental political journey.

Both of them are busy seeking Dixie votes on separate routes today. Johnson was flying into Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., making his way to a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner celebration in New Orleans.

Lady Bird gave her engineer orders to pull out of Tallahassee, Fla., at 5:35 a.m. after a rousing Florida State College homecoming rally with about 3,000 students and an overnight rest stop.

She had to be out on the train's observation platform to greet folks at an engine switching stop at Chattahoochee, Fla., an hour later.

"I've been working on the railroad," Mrs. Johnson jokingly paraphrased the familiar song. But it wasn't really a joke. She had been putting in long, hard days and had made 36 stops and 36 speeches in a span of 72 hours.

It was wearying, but rewarding. As Mrs. Johnson put it, there were "bigger and bigger enthusiastic crowds" all the way from Washington to Florida. According to her generous whistle stop counters, a million people will have turned out to see the President's wife by the time her train reaches New Orleans.

Georgia's Gov. Carl Sanders said the Lady Bird Special started out as a train but seems to be "trying to wind up as a bandwagon."

It was all like a traveling road show, with the whole Johnson family getting into the act. The latest to join up was daughter Luci, 17, who did everything from cheering Valdosta, Ga., with word she knew about their football team to lecturing young Goldwater hecklers, on respecting the rights of others who have opposing views.

She just about stole the show at Florida State College Thursday night, with the crowd shouting "We want Luci." To the delight of the big audience, Luci seemed taken by surprise when coeds crowned her with a huge red, white and blue feather headdress and made her an honorary member of their 1964 homecoming court.

She promptly rose to the occasion, delivering a speech on the responsibilities of her generation to prepare for the time when they will be handed their country's problems to solve.

Controversial Trip To Quebec

Queen's Guarded Closely On French Canada Visit

QUEBEC (AP) — Frogmen searched the cold waters of Wolfe's Cove today and plainclothesmen with police dogs patrolled the historic Plains of Abraham as Queen Elizabeth's yacht steamed up the St. Lawrence for the queen's controversial visit to French Canada.

Despite some official denials, there were many signs that security safeguards would surpass anything ever set up in Canada for the visit of a head of state.

Checkpoints were in operation on all roads to make sure that no known extremists in the French separatist movement entered the city. Occupants of all automobiles were required to show identification papers.

The queen, who arrived on Prince Edward Island Monday for an 8-day Canadian visit, is expected to disembark from the royal yacht Britannia at Wolfe's Cove Saturday morning. She will remain in Quebec until Sunday night, when she will fly to Ottawa for the final stop of her visit.

Frogmen have been exploring the dock area for several days. They will keep watch on the hull of the Britannia while the queen is here. She and Prince Philip will live aboard, as they did in Charlottetown earlier in the week.

More than 1,000 police will be backed by soldiers and fire brigades on standby. The royal routes through the city will be lined with soldiers. Buses are ready to move police about quickly.

Security authorities have clamped tight restrictions on demonstrations by the separatists.

They also are concerned over a rash of threatening letters and telephone calls.

Le Rassemblement Pour L'Independence Nationale, a separatist organization, has called a rally tonight to voice its objections. Police granted a permit for the rally but made clear they would not tolerate manifestations after the queen arrived.

Young Has Busy Campaign Slate Set For Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D — Ohio, had a busy day of campaigning scheduled here today, including a motorcade and an appearance at a high school football game.

Young, who is seeking re-election to the Senate, planned to start his campaign visit at 10 a.m. Appearances on the courthouses steps and at various plant gates to greet workers were on tap.

He planned to wind up at the football game between Akron Hoban and Akron East high schools to be on hand for the dedication of the new Hoban stadium tonight.

Cornshock Raid Brings Penalty

George Larry Hubbard, 21, of 808 Washington St., Wellsville, lost the right to drive for 30 days because he led a cornshock raid on a St. Clair Township farm Sept. 30.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin imposed the sentence Thursday after finding Hubbard guilty of contributing to the delinquency of four Wellsville and East Liverpool boys, ages 14-17.

The court fined all $25 each —the money to be used to reimburse the farmer for $75 damages, and the rest is to go to the Child Counseling Center in East Liverpool.

Cecil Lyons of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., called constable R. W. Wright for help after he discovered the boys upsetting shocks in his field about 8:10 p.m. The five youths ran away, leaving Hubbard's automobile. The constable found them hiding nearby and Lyons told the court they knocked down 69 shocks.

Administration's Poverty Program Attacked By Taft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says the Johnson administration's anti - poverty program is an example of excessive growth of government.

In a speech at a Republican Day rally on the Ohio State University campus Thursday, Taft said:

"The poverty program authorizes a federal bureau to come right into a community, doing what the director (of the bureau) wants, bypassing the local governments."

Taft, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, said the federal government should only become involved in state and local problems "when the state can't handle it, and even then it should work with the state in administering a program."

Taft also said he disagrees with Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's stands on the civil rights bill and the nuclear test ban treaty.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill and against Senate ratification of the treaty.

Taft, who voted for the civil rights measure, said Goldwater's "opposition to the civil rights bill was based on his belief that the public accommodations section was an excessive use of federal power. "I don't agree with him.

"As for the nuclear treaty, it is too early for anyone to know how beneficial it would be."
